ELKS LOCK HORNS IN FIGHT FOR OFFICE OF GRAND EXALTED RULER FOR KILLING ENEMY IN BATTLE

NOMINATION OF ALL CANDIDATES IS DECLARED

Only Contest is Between the Rivals For Highest of Officials
DETROIT IS WINNER OF NEXT CONVENTION
Letter Issued by J. V. Sammis is Not Entirely Fair, Say Delegates

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—The ballot box closed at 2:30 with the result on the election of Grand Exalted Ruler greatly in doubt. Herrmann's supporters claim his election but admit a closer vote than they had expected. Sammis' supporters are confident. The result will not be known before late today.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Detroit was selected by acclamation for the meeting place of the Grand Lodge of Elks in 1910. St. Louis and Portland practically withdrew.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—The live-in fight for the office of Grand Exalted Ruler in the history of Elksdom reached its last stage today when the Grand Lodge of the Elks met in the Auditorium Theatre where the election was held.

The contest between August Herrmann of Cincinnati and J. V. Sammis of Los Angeles for the honor of being the first Elks in the line for the coming year was at the end almost a draw. The nomination of the contest was at the national convention of the great political parties. Never before have the Elks who gather at annual reunions witnessed such a battle which, while it has been waged with but little show of personal antagonism, has been marked by unusual scenes and incidents.

Not Entirely Fair
The present Grand Exalted Ruler, Rush T. Hollan of Colorado Springs issued a statement today in regard to a letter circulated among the delegates by supporters of Sammis in which it was said that Sammis has not been entirely fair in the letter was written by Hollan to Sammis some time ago and as published in this issue appears to be an endorsement of Sammis. Hollan in his statement says however, that only a portion of the letter has been given out, and that by using only a portion, Sammis makes his appeal to say what he did not intend to say, and he adds that he did not mean to endorse the candidacy of Sammis.

Balloting Starts
The balloting for officers of the Grand Lodge was begun at 10 o'clock. No objection to that of Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks in a contest the administration candidates being assured of election from the time their names were first mentioned.

A ruling of the Grand Exalted Ruler cut out all seconding speeches. August Herrmann and J. V. Sammis were nominated for Grand Exalted Ruler. Warren G. Sayre of Wash. Ind., was nominated for Grand Exalted Ruler. No other nominations were made. Frank T. Hollan of Colo. was nominated for Grand Exalted Ruler. Perry A. Clay of Denver was nominated by acclamation for Grand Trustee.

Two names were placed before the lodge for Grand Exalted Lecturing. The names of Harry Walther of Philadelphia and J. D. McLaughlin of Scranton, Pa. No other nominations had been made up to the noon adjournment.

Nominations Close
The nominations were closed when the names of Fred C. Robinson, incumbent for Grand Secretary, and Edwin R.

ENEMY IN BATTLE

Dominic Ceramella Changes His Plea and Confesses Stabbing Man

VICTIM DIED WITH KNIFE WOUND IN HEART

Two Had Quarreled Over a Small Sum of Money in a Saloon

Dominic Ceramella, a middle-aged black, who, early in the morning of May 27, stabbed John C. Burlison, a Britisher, with a knife so severely that he died fifteen minutes after being taken to the Receiving Hospital, was sentenced this afternoon by Superior Judge Brown to serve eight years in the penitentiary at San Quentin for his crime.

The killing of Burlison was a bloody deed, the culmination of a fight between the two men over a small sum of money. The stabbing took place in front of the bar of a saloon at 434 San Pablo avenue.

Burlison was the larger man of the two, and when Ceramella saw that he was being worsted in the rough and tumble fight, he drew a knife, and repeatedly stabbed his antagonist in the body. Twelve times he buried the knife into Burlison's anatomy and the wound that resulted in his death was in the left chest, and penetrated into the heart.

Ceramella told his victim prostrate and dying on the floor of the saloon, and went outside where he had the bootblack stand. Before the arrival of the police he had time to hide the knife with which he did the stabbing behind the counter of a little cigar stand at the saloon entrance, and to busy himself with placing his bootblack stand in the doorway as if he were in absolute ignorance of anything that had happened.

The bartender was the only witness to the crime. He identified Ceramella as the perpetrator of it, and the police found the knife in the doorway as if he were in absolute ignorance of anything that had happened.

Changes His Plea
When placed on his preliminary trial for murder, Ceramella pleaded not guilty. He was held to the Superior Court, and when arraigned before Judge Brown on the criminal department, reiterated his plea of not guilty. His case was set for this morning for trial. When it was called, Judge A. L. Erick, his attorney announced that with the consent of the district attorney, Ceramella would withdraw his plea of not guilty to the charge of murder, and plead guilty to manslaughter.

Judge Brown accepted this compromise and upon Ceramella waiving time for sentence, put the case over until the afternoon session for pronouncing judgment.

Burlison had followed the trade of a carpenter since his arrival in Oakland, and it developed after his death that he was a member of a well-to-do family in England. He was one of the many immigrants who have come to the United States because their people do not have a regular monthly salary in receipt of money, but he was a member of a well-to-do family in England.

EVELYN THAW WITNESS AT HUSBAND'S HEARING

State Calls Wife to Testify In Effort to Prevent His Release

AGED PHILANTHROPIST TALKS TO PRISONER

Slayer of Stanford White Speaks of Roosevelt on Politics

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 13.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, subpoenaed by the State which is opposing her husband's release from the Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane, took the stand today as a witness at the hearing in the Supreme Court here on Harry K. Thaw's mental condition.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw arrived in White Plains this afternoon. Her entrance into the court room created a commotion in the crowd, which filled every seat and all the aisles. She was dressed in a neat blue suit and a large hat with gray plumes. Deputy Attorney Clark asked the witness about a conversation she had with her husband at Matteawan soon after he was committed, at which Daniel O'Reilly, one of Thaw's former lawyers was present.

Mrs. Thaw declined to say whether she had had such a conversation. "Did Harry Thaw make a threat during the conversation that he would kill you?" asked Mr. Clark.

Declines to Answer
Thaw's counsel objected, but Justice Mills ruled that the witness could answer.

"I don't care to answer that question," said Mrs. Thaw, "and I have not claimed any privilege so far as the record will show."

The witness declined to answer any of Mr. Clark's questions and he asked the court to instruct her to answer. "I can't afford to continue proceedings now and I must obey," said Evelyn turning to Justice Mills.

"Did you have a conversation with Mr. Thaw in regard to your affairs?" Mrs. Thaw was asked.

"We had a talk in regard to a certain thing," said the witness. "I am not saying, though, what that thing was," she added.

"Had Mr. Thaw asked you to do something for him on that day?" "No, sir."

Eyes "Prominent"
Mrs. Thaw said her husband's hair was mussed and that he wore a handkerchief in place of a collar. His eyes were "prominent."

"During that conversation did Harry K. Thaw say this, or words to this effect, to you, 'When I get out of here I will have to kill you?'"

Thaw's counsel objected to the question and the witness did not have to answer. Justice Mills ruled that the conversation between Thaw and his wife at that time was confidential and need not be repeated.

Attorney Winslow argued that the conversation was material, as bearing on the sanity or insanity of Thaw. Clark asked the privilege of asking the witness some preliminary questions.

Referred to White
The witness said it was. Justice Mills finally said that if the State should show that Daniel O'Reilly was not acting as counsel for both Thaw and his wife at the time he was present at the Matteawan conversation he would rule that O'Reilly made a disinterested third party present, which overcomes the legal privilege.

Clark had Mrs. Thaw identify some papers written by her. At one time Mrs. Thaw turned to Justice Mills and said: "Will I be in contempt if I do not answer? I cannot afford to go to jail, and"

SUES TO HAVE NAME ON TICKET

Frank J. Sullivan Takes Legal Action Against Election Commissioners

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—An alternate writ of mandate was granted by the Supreme Court yesterday to Frank J. Sullivan, directing the election commissioners and J. H. Zemanek, Registrar of Voters, to show cause on Thursday morning why the plaintiff's name should not be placed on the ballot at the coming primary election as a candidate for Mayor on the Union Labor ticket. Sullivan presented his petition late in the afternoon, and he asked that it receive immediate attention, as it was of great importance to him and to the entire community.

The petitioner explains in a ten-page typewritten document that a candidate's nomination papers must be signed by from 3 per cent to 10 per cent of the total number of his party's voters in at least one-fourth of all the election precincts of every district. The basis for the calculation, he says, is the vote polled by the last Presidential electors.

Sullivan states that Haskell was the last Presidential elector of the Union Labor party. This was in 1906, and he received 5,352 votes. He thinks the 3 per cent should be figured on this basis.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MANGLES. BERKELEY, July 13.—The remains of the late Mrs. Isabel White Mangles, who died yesterday afternoon at her home, 241 College avenue, were interred this afternoon at the funeral home of Nippon Maru, now in the Orient. Mrs. Mangles was the widow of the late John Mangles and had been a resident of Berkeley since the San Francisco fire.

'BEG TO REPORT I AM MARRIED'

So Wrote Policeman H. M. Connor and Document is Filed With Chief

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The police in the harbor station have always been known as a jovial lot of officers, and incidentally have some reputation as practical jokers. Accordingly, when it was last night that Policeman H. M. Connor of the water front forces had been married without so much as dropping a hint of it to his comrades in the ranks, or his superiors, he came in for more than his share.

He was ordered to make a report of his marriage and the stern mandate of his superior officer had all the sting of a rebuke in it when the command was given.

Connor took it all seriously, and urged by a brother officer, who was in on the deal, he left his post at 7 o'clock and, going to the station, sat down and wrote: "I beg to report that on July 12, 1909, I was married and moved my residence from 538 Haight street to 1563 Lyon street, H. M. Connor."

Not all the report had been sent to headquarters and a laugh in the chief's office and among the upper office detectives was Connor given the Ha' He! in his own precinct station, and realizing that the joke was on him.

The officer was quietly married to Mrs. Mary Finn, who is well known as the daughter of a sporting goods merchant of this city.

ACCUSED OF PASSING FICTITIOUS CHECK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Another alleged fictitious check passer was taken into custody this morning by Detective Sergeant Burke on complaint of the manager of the Hotel Dade. The accused is Walter D. Grady, who, it is claimed, several days ago presented a worthless check for $21 to Charles W. Ward.

The paper was duly cashed, but was returned from the bank marked "No funds."

WANTS CONTROL OF JAS. DUNPHY

Sister Begins Legal Proceeding to Have Millionaire Declared Incompetent

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—A petition was filed with the county clerk yesterday by Jennie C. Dunphy, wife of her brother, James C. Dunphy, husband of "Dodie," Valencia, and former husband of Mrs. Sanderson-Coffey-Silverstone, an incompetent, and a guardian appointed to manage his affairs. The petitioner, a million left him by a fond parent. In her petition, Miss Dunphy alleges to her brother's mismanagement of the family property, and that he is "mentally incompetent, and unable properly to take care of himself or of his property." She states in her petition that her brother has contracted the habit of "drinking," "to excess," in intoxicating liquors, and that he is "mentally incompetent, and unable properly to take care of himself or of his property." She states in her petition that her brother has contracted the habit of "drinking," "to excess," in intoxicating liquors, and that he is "mentally incompetent, and unable properly to take care of himself or of his property."

She states in her petition that her brother has contracted the habit of "drinking," "to excess," in intoxicating liquors, and that he is "mentally incompetent, and unable properly to take care of himself or of his property."

Petition Not Answered

Dunphy's petition for the annulment of his marriage with "Dodie" Valencia has not been answered by the woman in case. In it he alleges that he went through the marriage ceremony while too intoxicated to know what was going on. It was several days before he knew that he had succeeded in getting away from the clutches of his brain. He then, he alleges, he had inadvertently given another woman the right to call him husband. And then the green dragon, pink rats and yellow turtles which he had from the papers filed on his behalf, are now being used to his disadvantage. The history of Dunphy has become a complete temperance lecture, and a new edition comes out every few days.

The former Mrs. Dunphy, whose many husbands have given her a nice little bit of fame on her own account, was recently married to Ernest Pagnuolo, her lawyer.

ACROBATS AT THE BELL

World's Greatest Horizontal Bar Act

Dumitrescu-Vermette Troupe. At the Bell this week.

For genuine daring and clever work on the bars the expert quartette, known as the world's greatest nine horizontal bars and casting act. The Dumitrescu-Vermette Troupe, the originators of this style of an act, take the palm. Swinging from one bar a distance of twenty feet through a blind and catching a second with apparent ease to the audience is one of their feats, while the least slip of the fingers means injury if not death. This week's bill at the popular playhouse is in line with the policy of the Bell—to always give their patrons all they promise, and if you have not already seen this week's show you should do so at once.

ELKS VOTE FOR EXALTED RULER

Hot Contest Over Office is Begun by Delegates in South

Leach, incumbent, for Grand Treasurer, were presented. Voting began at once after the nominations and each member voted he left the hall. The counting of the ballots by the election committee will take several hours.

The annual report of Grand Exalted Rule: Holland was submitted during the day. "The statement is made without qualification that the year closing with this session of the Grand Lodge has been the most prosperous in the history of the order," says the report. "The element of egotism or self-laudation enters into this statement, for the credit belongs not to the present but primarily to the preceding administration. During the year the order has more than doubled without interruption, its triumphal march has been the incomparable fraternal organization of modern times."

Since the meeting at Dallas last year, the report states, 42 new lodges have been established and the total membership of the order is now over 300,000. The report also decries the use of the order for political purposes and recommends the enactment of a statute to prevent it.

Declines to Answer Questions Which Will Not Aid Her Husband

as my husband is not now paying anything to me I have not money enough to hire counsel."

Thaw watched his wife intently. Mrs. Thaw appeared more mature but demure, and a school girl expression accentuated her beauty as she when she wore her eon collar and testified at her husband's trial in New York.

When the Thaw hearing was resumed today, W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie, a Philadelphia trial lawyer, testified he had talked with Thaw on selling subjects. "I told him we were brother men and should alleviate each other's sorrows and troubles," the witness said.

Rational, He Says

"Mr. Thaw seemed to be well read and have a good knowledge of the Bible. His conversation was very rational," said Mr. Smith.

Otto Metz, a New York court officer and former keeper in the Tombs prison, testified that he had talked politics with Thaw.

"He certainly convinced me that the silver question and Bryanism would be a bad thing for the country," said the witness.

Deputy Attorney General Clark objected to the answer and Justice Mills instructed the witness to confine himself to the actual conversations between himself and Thaw.

The witness said Thaw told him he thought "Roosevelt was a strong man" and made a good President.

WIFE THROWS DISHES, BREAKING HUSBAND'S HAND

C. A. Smith, a husky boilermaker, residing at 628 Ninth street, called at the Receiving Hospital last evening to have an ugly laceration of the left hand dressed. He said that he had just been engaged in a battle at home with his wife, during which she had bombarded him with dishes. He threw up his arm to divert a platter or some other piece of china that was sailing through the air at his head with terrific velocity and in crashing against the guard it was shattered, one of the fragments wounding the hand.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR BERKELEY CITY PRINTING

BERKELEY, July 13.—The council this morning awarded the city printing to the Berkeley Reporter at the phenomenally low rate of four cents a square. F. W. I. Arden of the Gazette made a protest through Attorney Squires, declaring that the Reporter had a small circulation and was not a responsible bidder. For the Reporter former Town Attorney R. C. Staats appeared, to say that the company was responsible.

The councilman declared that their duty was to award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, irrespective of circulation or distribution.

The council adopted a design for an official seal. It is a vignette of the head of Bishop Berkeley, surrounded by the words "Seal of the City of Berkeley" and "Westward the Star of Empire Takes Its Way."

The council announced officially the appointment of alter J. Seaborn, former deputy town clerk, as city clerk. Seaborn filed bonds for $20,000, as did City Engineer J. J. Jessup and Superintendent of Streets Chris Engelbrecht.

John W. Fendell, a Civil War veteran, applied for the janitorship of the new city hall and Dan J. Keller asked to be appointed watchman on the municipal wharf.

A merry party of friends returned from Byron Springs after spending the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rickson Nead, who are continually dispensing their hospitality in true southern style. Their guests on this occasion were Miss Innes Keeney, Miss Peggie Simpson, Lieutenant Harold Naylor, U. S. A., and Lieutenant James D. Burns, U. S. A.

Mrs. Campbell Shorb and Miss Ethel Shorb have arrived at Seattle and are enjoying the attractions of the Exposition.

DELAY ANNOYS SWAPS HER GRIP PERKINS AND KNOWLAND

Both Declare They Are Anxious to Have Alameda Post-office Completed

GOVERNMENT TANGLED IN MANY LAWSUITS

Explain Their Attitudes Toward Mother in Letters of Secretary Russell

ALAMEDA, July 13.—Relative to the delay in erecting the new postoffice for this city, the following letters have been received by the Chamber of Commerce from Senator Perkins and Representative Joseph R. Knowland.

"Washington, D. C., July 6, 1909.

"Mr. Ralph A. Russell, Secy. Chamber of Commerce, Alameda, California.

"My Dear Sir: Your favor of the 28th ultimo is at hand and contents carefully noted.

"No one has been more disgusted with the delay in the Alameda postoffice matter than the undersigned. After working diligently for a number of years to obtain recognition for my native city, and finally succeeding in securing a very generous appropriation, I have been very impatient at the delay. From the very outset I have naturally felt a delicacy in interfering in the matter of the selection of a site, believing that my duty ended when I obtained the appropriation. When first informed by the Treasury Department that the selection of a site for the new postoffice was being delayed, I immediately expressed a fear that it would cause unnecessary delay, but assurances were given me that my fears were groundless.

"The present delay is with the Department of Justice, and the delay is not in the hands of the Treasury Department. In conjunction with Senator Perkins, and hope to have a report within a few days.

"Very truly yours, J. R. KNOWLAND.

Letter From Perkins

"July 6, 1909.

"Hon. R. A. Russell, Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Alameda, California.

"Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your favor of the 13th inst. in relation to the public building in Alameda. It is, I am sure, unnecessary for me to say that I was only through the skill and diplomacy of my colleague, Congressman Knowland, that the appropriation was made for the purchase of the site and the erection of the new postoffice in Alameda. Since then, he, as well as myself, has been exceedingly annoyed and chagrined at the delay in action on the part of the Treasury Department in securing a lot. You can rest assured that Mr. Knowland is doing everything in his power to expedite matters. Of course, he has only to command me in any line that he may suggest. He has taken the matter up with the Department of Justice, urging them to press the condemnation suit to a final conclusion. I would say, however, that many cases of this kind drag along for very much longer than this, for the reason that there are so many similar suits pending in the Department of Justice. I am sure that you can readily understand the cause of the delay. I beg to assure you that so far as it is possible I am always pleased to co-operate with Mr. Knowland in urging speedy action in all that respects the interests of our State and especially in his district.

"Very truly yours, GEO. C. PERKINS."

THREE ROMANCES START IN SCHOOL

Engagements Are Announced of Former College Girls to Young Graduates

BERKELEY, July 13.—Three announcements of engagements, the culmination of three college romances, were made at a pretty reception given at the home of Miss Rose Hizar of 1532 Leroy avenue, yesterday. The dates for the marriage of the happy couples have not been fixed, but the engagements will occur some time in the early fall. ## DELEGATES BACK AS MAN AND WIFE

Miss Ethel Willis and Victor de Manuel Leave C. E. Convention and Marry

BERKELEY, July 13.—Not content with invading every other branch of activities in Berkeley, the little God of Love broke into the State Christian Endeavor convention at Pasadena and quietly whisked a couple of delegates from Berkeley off to Los Angeles, where the marriage ceremony was performed without the knowledge of friends or parents.

Miss Ethel Willis of 341 Sixty-second street, Berkeley, and Victor de Manuel of 2138 California street, were sent as delegates to the convention from the Park Congregational church of this city. Last Wednesday they were quietly married at the residence of the bride's parents, where the Rev. J. E. Logan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed another religious ceremony.

The parents of the bride and groom were notified by letter of the wedding, and requested to make the young couple welcome upon their arrival in this city Sunday evening. This they refused to do, and the young couple were forced to give their consent to the union of the son and daughter themselves.

Nevertheless, when the Owl rolled into Oakland Sunday night the families of each of the young people were on hand to greet them. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and the young couple were married in a very quiet manner.

The cause of the first wedding broke out at about 8 o'clock in the morning, and the young couple were married in a very quiet manner.

STUDENTS FIGHT FLAMES AT TAHOE

S. N. Wyckoff and J. K. Fuller Save Social Hall From Being Consumed

BERKELEY, July 13.—S. N. Wyckoff, an athlete of the Berkeley high school, and J. K. Fuller, a freshman student in the University of California, were the chief factors in a sensational fire at the Lakeside Park hotel near Lake Tahoe, Sunday morning, in which the young men saved the social hall from being consumed by flames.

The cause of the fire, which broke out at about 8 o'clock in the morning, was a small fire in the kitchen. The fire spread rapidly and the young men were forced to escape by a back door.

Oakland Booming Ahead.

If any city on the continent is booming ahead on strictly natural and legitimate lines without resorting to artificial agencies, that city is Oakland. The assessed valuation of property for the purposes of taxation is this year over $106,000,000, divided among a population of 235,000. Oakland is the trading center of a population of at least one-half million people. Its foreign imports carried by one ocean line and delivered on the city wharf have increased in one year from thirty tons a month, with which it began, to one thousand tons per month and it is still growing apace. The municipality is spending millions in permanent public improvements. It is planning to spend many millions more in the same direction. No city on the continent is showing equal energy in putting its "house in order."

The quasi-public corporations are working on the same lines, to keep up with local growth and development. One of them is planning the construction of docks and wharves under an arrangement to lease the wharfing out privileges from the municipality, which will be an acknowledgment of the municipality's jurisdiction over the water front, and which will guarantee entry to the same to all railroads seeking terminal privileges on it, that will accommodate the largest ships that can pass through the Golden Gate, involving an expenditure of $10,000,000. The Southern Pacific Company under similar conditions is planning the expenditure of $7,000,000 for west side water front improvements for similar commercial uses. This is entirely independent of the millions it is spending in the electrifying of its local steam lines and the development of a new system of local electric railroads. The Chamber of Commerce and the resident engineer in charge of harbor improvements over which the War Department has sole jurisdiction are reaching an agreement whereby the channel to Oakland harbor and the pier head line may be deepened to thirty feet at low tide so that ships of the largest tonnage afloat may receive and discharge cargoes at their moorings in perfectly still water. Millions of dollars additional are being spent in putting a new trans-continental railroad's terminal here in the best condition for the transaction of the business it has reasonable expectations to develop. Still other millions are being spent by private property owners in substantial improvements. Why, then, should Oakland not be booming ahead?

Suburbs in the Swim.

As THE TRIBUNE expected would be the case as the result of the Fruitvale and Elmhurst bond elections, both of these growing and progressive suburbs of Oakland have demonstrated in an indisputable manner that they are "in the swim." At Saturday's bond elections for the raising of funds for improved sanitation the propositions submitted for popular approval received it in the most pronounced manner. The three sanitary districts in Fruitvale, namely, Upper and East Fruitvale and Redwood, voted enormous majorities for the bonding propositions involving the assumption of an aggregate indebtedness of $150,000, and Elmhurst assumed an indebtedness of $75,000 for the development of a sewer system with an emphatic vote.

Upper Fruitvale sanitary district cast over fourteen votes to one in favor of the issuance of bonds to the amount of $60,000; East Fruitvale sustained the $54,000 bond proposition by a vote of eight to one; Redwood sanitary district assumed a $36,000 debt by a vote of nearly twenty-five to one, and Elmhurst carried the $75,000 bonded indebtedness by a vote of three to one. Civic pride and the spirit of enterprise and progressiveness thus won the day handsomely in each of these suburban communities. The non-progressives are, fortunately for their own good, in a hopeless minority. Municipal development is forcing itself irresistibly on these suburban communities and they are meeting it in the right spirit. Their reward will come in ample form later and it goes without the saying that they will not have to wait for it long either.

Rehabilitation of Turkish Army.

The rehabilitation of the Turkish navy is one of the notable results of the dethronement of Abdul Hamid as Sultan. The latter mistrusted the navy and laid up all effective vessels in ordinary relying solely on the army for the maintenance of his power and the defense of his dominions. In his wars with Russia, the navy, consequently, always proved weak as an arm of defense and nil as an aggressive force. And yet the Ottoman Empire has a long and exposed seaboard and a defenseless archipelago of islands.

Properly developed the Turkish navy ought to be able to dominate the Black Sea, the eastern shores of the Mediterranean and the Ionian Islands. Instead of that it was reduced by the policy of Abdul Hamid to such a point of worthlessness that it was incompetent to patrol the shores of the Danube or of the Black Sea seaboard against Russian aggressions, whereas if its efficiency had been maintained it would have been in a position to have threatened the security of Odessa and all of the southern seaboard of Russia. It is worthy of note and is likewise significant that the Turkish navy is being reorganized and rehabilitated by expert British naval officers, which means that Great Britain still relies on Turkey to foil Russian ambition to get possession of Constantinople or access to the Mediterranean Sea.

Improvement of Franklin Street.

The improvement of Franklin street from Seventh to Fourteenth street, which has been long delayed, is now on the way to be accomplished. This improvement has been compelled to contend against various unfortunate circumstances arising one after the other in a way which made delay unavoidable in order to save expense to property owners and the city and escape from the tearing up of the improved modern bituminous pavement with which it is to be covered. The contract for the bituminizing of the street was let many months ago. Then came a protracted period of uninterrupted rainy weather which made street work impossible and, in the meantime, litigation interfering with the carrying out of a contract awarded for the laying of a main which formed an important part of the salt water fire protective system. Happily, the injunction was dissolved and the order for the necessary piping placed with the United States Pipe Company to carry out the salt water main contract is now being fulfilled by the delivery of the pipe. Trenching for the latter has been started and everything is in a fair way for the early completion of that feature in the improvement of Franklin street, as the contractors, Cotton Bros., intend pushing it ahead as fast as men and materials can accomplish the work. The pipe is being delivered on the ground and will be laid as fast as the trench is opened. Then, the contract for the paving of the roadway with bituminized rock on a concrete foundation will follow with all the expedition that the contractors—the Ransome-Crummey Company—can bring to bear upon it. When that is completed Franklin street will rank with Broadway, Washington and Clay as a business street and the property fronting on it will be improved accordingly, as it should be. Its improvement has been one of the crying needs of the city for many years past.

Oakland Harbor Conference.

This afternoon a conference is being held between the Harbor Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Mott and United States Army Engineer Lieutenant-Colonel Biddle regarding the plans of harbor improvement which Oakland proposes to carry out in order to put itself in rapport with the proposed dredging of the channel to a depth of thirty feet which the Chamber is urging the Federal Government to undertake as early as possible to facilitate the commercial development of the harbor. Doubtless the conference will result in a satisfactory understanding and a recommendation being made by Colonel Biddle to the War Department that the channel be deepened as desired.

Colonel Biddle's objection to such an improvement being made now is based on the fact, which has been proved by soundings, that the city has not availed itself of the facilities which the present depth of water in the channel provides for shipping. The Oakland delegation will no doubt convince him, however, that the plans formed by the city and which it will be in a position to carry out when the water front bond proposition is submitted to the people and approved by them, as there is every reason to believe it will be, will meet the requirements of a channel with a depth of thirty feet of water at ordinary low tide. The delegation will also be able to make a satisfactory showing to Colonel Biddle that commerce carried by the largest craft afloat will use the harbor as soon as these facilities are provided by the municipality and the Federal Government and ordinances are adopted requiring private wharf owners along the northern water front of the harbor to conform with the depth of water established in the channel.

There is a limit as to size in the matter of flag-making beyond which it is dangerous to cross. This was illustrated at Pittsburg, Pa., on the occasion of the celebration of the Fourth, when the largest American flag in the world was unfurled from the Allegheny county court house and the Henry C. Frick building. The flag is 160 feet long and eighty feet in breadth and weighs 1200 pounds. The fastenings it has a total weight of 3000 pounds. After considerable difficulty it was stretched across the street at an elevation of 200 feet above the pavement. The following day a strong wind straightened out the flag, but in so doing it demonstrated the fact that the line of safety had been crossed, for it threatened to wreck the court house. As it was, before the big flag could be lowered it tore several thousand pounds of stone and tile from the court house roof and scattered it in the street below, and partially destroyed itself before it reached the ground.

The Worcester, Mass., Telegram asserts that automobiles to the value of more than $40,000,000 have been registered in that State since January 1. It would be interesting to know how much money is represented in the automobile registered up to date in California, where the climate and other favorable conditions have been such active agents in causing their general adoption. If the number and values could be segregated according to counties and cities, we believe that Alameda County and Oakland would stand at the head of the list, as the direct result of their development of an elaborate system of good roads and smoothly paved streets, of which Alameda County has a vastly greater mileage than any other county in the State.

There was not much loss of time with bigamist Johnson on the part of the administration of justice. If it were as swift in every case it would probably have a deterrent effect on the naturally criminal, to which class Johnson evidently belongs. It is the long delays of the law that works to society's disadvantage.

VIM AND VIGOR AT 71 IS VIRTUE'S REWARD

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

SATURDAY, July 13, 1889.—It is expected that the assessed value of this city by the city assessor will be thirty-five millions of dollars. The city tax levy will be about nine cents. The Chinamen who attacked Mrs. Reed on Sixth avenue, East Oakland, is a cousin of wife No. 2, No. 3 or No. 4 of Quock Choy, capitalist, superintendent of Chinese at the jute mills near Clinton station and owner of Chinese lotteries. Choy says that he will chain his erring relative to a post until their next steamer sails and will then send him to China. The condition of the Twelfth street dam or bridge, or crossing, or whatever it is called, continues in a disgraceful condition and nobody seems to care.

J. B. McCaskey, principal of the High school, has returned from a trip to the East. He has visited thirteen States, has seen a great deal and has enjoyed every moment of his time. City Attorney Johnson is in favor of submitting to the courts an agreed case as to whether or not Judge Ladd has the right to act as judge of the police court.

Dr. Crowley has prepared the form of death certificate now in use and intends to exercise all the authority vested in him, in his official position of health officer, to compel physicians to comply with the ordinance requiring them to fill out blanks giving particulars of the cases of death which they have in their practice.

Tomorrow the Oakland baseball team will play a game of ball with the team from Sacramento.

Chief of Police Tompkins has presented to the Board of Police Commissioners a new set of rules for the government of the police force.

K. B. Czarnecki, who attempted to shoot G. S. Langan in Hayward a few days ago, is in the county jail, no bail having been furnished for him.

Al Kohler, the actor who played "Louis XI" at the Park Theater during the brief time that his sister spent her savings in conducting a place of amusement has been arrested on the charge of one of his employees on the charge of embezzling a watch.

The Board of Health adopts rules for the regulation of plumbing in this city. Lynn Relief Corps celebrates the fifth anniversary of its organization. Sarah M. Steele, the president, reviews the corps work from 1854 to 1889. H. T. Smith sings "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

Commissioner Playter of the Board of Public Works tells Superintendent Loring of the Telegraph avenue horse car line that the road is a shame to the superintendent and to the company for the reason that the rails are higher than the surface of the roadway and that vehicles are injured by coming in contact with them.

SAFEGUARDING YOUNG WOMEN

It is no exaggeration to say that American girls are allowed a greater degree of liberty than their grandmothers were permitted to exercise in their recreations, in making acquaintances and in receiving attentions from men. There was never a time when girls needed more the counsels of parents, their wise and tender and vigilant care and guidance, than now. There was never a time when for their own good there was greater necessity than now for girls to surround themselves with the safeguards of discriminating exclusiveness, to make no friendships until they are satisfied that these associates are compatible with the purest and highest standards of womanhood.—Baltimore Sun.

The Englishman's Club

"Club" is a word we have taken over from the English language, writes a German in the London Mail. But only the word. Also the club chair perhaps. But not the institution. For whereas in Germany a club is a society of kindred people, of friends, all knowing each other thoroughly and gathering at the club to dine, play or chat at will, it seems in England the place where one keeps as carefully to himself as possible and where members of thirty years' standing do not know each other.

A TIP TO DR. ELIOT.

Oh, Doctor, Doctor Eliot, we're very, very sure
To form your five-foot library must be no sinecure,
For everybody's butting in with two or three pet books,
And you know the adage tried and true about "too many cooks."
The schoolboy wants "Tom Sawyer" and the "Life of Deadwood Dick,"
The maiden of romantic age love-tales alone would pick,
The housewife swears a cook-book you should place upon the shelf—
Oh, everybody knocks your choice and makes a list himself
But don't you let them tease you, your discretion to confound
Go on, you know your business; build the shelf of books you choose!
But whisper: Leave one little niche where one small book will sit—
No, not the works of Shakespeare nor the Bible—not a bit!
It's not a work of fiction nor an epic far from that,
But when his title's mentioned every heart goes plump;
Include it in your five-foot shelf and you'll be blessed, kind sir,
For oh, it is the check-book to which we here refer!
—Paul West, in the New York World.

Editorial Comment From Press of the Country

They are nearly a million boys each year who terminate their school life and go to work to earn a living. The majority of them are poorly equipped for their life work by what they have learned in school. Their education is along such lines that if they are able to continue it long enough they make fair bank clerks, stenographers, etc., but poor carpenters and plumbers or any other skilled laborer.

The question is, shall the effort to give boys a practical industrial education be left to totally inadequate private endeavor, or shall the public educational system be as interested in fitting the youth of the country for skillful mechanical trades as it now is in equipping them for a life behind the counter or an office chair?

The establishment of manual training schools in connection with some public school systems is evidence that public educators realize that mechanical as well as academic education is a legitimate public effort, but such courses have not yet been placed on a practical basis.—St. Louis Star.

It is doubtful whether the reading public would be much edified or attracted by the tariff platitudes of Dewey or the rash and varied misinformation conveyed in a speech of Smoot on the effect of the tariff on the wholesale and retail prices of razors. Whenever the proceedings of Congress become as attractive to the public as the reports of baseball games, room enough will be found for them in the daily as well as weekly newspapers.—Philadelphia Record.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that burning money is no proof of insanity. Nevertheless there are cases in which the practice is evidence that the appropriation committees of Congress require the services of an expert alienist.—New York Mail.

The Cretan Problem

The approach of July 14, the day fixed for the evacuation of Crete by the last of the international contingents of the four protecting Powers, Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy, increases the interest in the Cretan problem. The evacuation is being carried out against the categorical protest of the Porte. Signs have not been wanting of late that the recent crisis through which Turkey has passed have revived the ambitions of Greece. The danger is that the subjects of King George, if not the Hellenic government, will endeavor to profit by Turkey's embarrassments to try to drive her from Crete and annex the island to Greece. Under the circumstances the moment in the opinion of the Porte is ill chosen for withdrawing the international contingents from the island. To the protest of Turkey, the Powers have replied that the evacuation was decided upon by the Powers in council, and it can only be postponed as the result of an international agreement. This means an amount of negotiation which cannot be carried out within the few short weeks which remain. The only counter proposition put forward is that of the British government. It is that the sovereignty of the Sultan over the island shall be guaranteed, but that the governor general shall be appointed by the King of the Hellenes. This is one of those hybrid arrangements which are calculated to satisfy nobody. It smacks of the compromise at a mile's distance, and a problem like the Cretan one can be solved by no system of compromise. The Sultan had had enough of shadowy sovereignty in Bosnia and Herzegovina. In these provinces the Turkish flag was hoisted every Sunday on the mosques as a sign that the Commander of the Faithful was still the sovereign. This fiction did not last one minute the day that Baron von Aehrenthal proclaimed the definite annexation. There is still less reason to believe that such a bastard agreement can succeed in Crete. A problem like that if Crete must be faced boldly, "make a spoon or spoil a horn," to quote the old Scotch proverb, is the only policy. The interview of the Herald's Constantinople correspondent three days ago with General Sheket Pacha was categorical. Any attempt on the part of Greece to annex the island is a casus belli.—European Edition of the Herald.

APPLAUSE

If applause makes a man think he's a lion, he's an ass. If it makes him think he's an ass, there's a chance of his being a lion.—Puck.

A Bond for Good Roads Is Good Business Proposition.

From every part of the State reports are coming of campaigns carried on in the various counties to secure better roads. This is due largely to the fact that the people are coming to realize the terrific drain that a poorly built system of highways is upon the public treasury and the immense saving in maintenance expenses that can be effected by constructing roads in a scientific manner. No business man would conduct his affairs in the manner that the road system of California has been conducted. Money has been expended one year in making temporary repairs and the same amount expended the next year in making the same repairs over again. The entire system is at fault. There is no doubt of the fact that the construction of good roads in Butte county would materially reduce the tax rate, despite the fact that a sinking fund and the interest upon the bonded indebtedness would have to be paid. At the present time a road tax of forty cents upon every $100 worth of assessed valuation is levied. Practically all of this money goes into maintenance of roads and is a temporary expenditure from which no permanent returns are secured. If we could reduce these maintenance charges, one of the heaviest items of county expense would be reduced. As a business proposition the taxpayers of Butte county should consider the proposition of bonding for good roads.—Oroville Register.

Bits From the Far East

Two notables of Jerusalem have applied for the concession for furnishing Jerusalem with electric light and building an electric tramway between Jerusalem and Jaffa. The daily receipts of the electric tramway in Damascus average 40 Turkish lira ($176). At present only one line is in operation, but a considerable expense of the system is under preparation. Electric light has been introduced into 450 places of residence and business in Damascus. The streets of the city are lighted with 1000 electric lamps, while the Serail, the city hall and the grand mosque are served gratis with electric arc lights.

Says the North China Daily News of Shanghai: "The anti-opium commission have decided on the optimum prohibition laws on a graduated scale. From the current year till the fifth year of Hsuan Fung, the maximum penalty for officials who should smoke opium will be strangulation; in the sixth year, this punishment will be extended to gentry, and in another year, to the common people."

From a Japanese newspaper: "A man named Uydan Rikimatsu, aged 28, of Kobe, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for stealing a young dog belonging to the proprietor of a piece-goods store at Tachibana-dori, three chome, Kobe. It appears that the accused had previously been convicted of stealing a cat."

Snapshots of Humorists

A writer tells of the sister of Lord Houghton who was frequently annoyed at the guests whom her brother brought to the house.
"Do you remember, my dear," he asked her at dinner one day, "whether that famous scoundrel X. was hanged or acquitted?"
"He must have been hanged," she replied, "for you would have had him here to dinner long ago."
"Well, gentlemen," said Tompkins to a couple of his friends, "you can talk as much as you please about the inferiority of women, but there are lots of us that can discount most of us for brains. Take my wife, for instance; she's got twice as much sense as I have, and I ain't ashamed to acknowledge it either."
"But, don't you think," said one of his auditors, "that you put rather a low estimate on your wife's intellectual powers?"
She: "You are always talking about the fashions. Now, honestly, do you think you would know the latest fashion in hats if you were to enter a milliner's?"
He: "Certainly."
She: "How?"
He (ruefully): "By looking at the prices."
Madeline Man: "What is the matter with your ministry?"
Cannibal King: "Oh, it's an awful digestion."
"What have you been eating?"
"I have just polished off an American millionaire."
"Good heavens! No wonder you are ill. I've told you repeatedly to beware of anything rich."

"STRONGHEART" IS A GREAT DRAMA

Its Interpretation by Broadway Players Raises Audience to Enthusiasm

It would be impossible to sit through a performance of "Strongheart," such as was given last night by the Smith players at the Broadway theater and not be impressed with the message that the dramatist, William C. De Mille, sends out to the American people, a message which is clearly pointed out that the prelude is a gift which separates the red man from the white and prevents any thought of the Indian becoming other than he is. As it has been in the past, so it is in the present and will be in the future, nationality is the barrier to equality.

For the proof of the position, assumed by De Mille, he chooses the instance of a case of an Indian child, who is sent to Columbia University in New York, wins the recognition and esteem of his fellow students, becomes a member of the "Varsity" football eleven and one of its principal stars, assumes the guilt of playing false to his team-mates and to his college in order to protect the good name of his friend, but falls in love with a white girl whose hand is sought by the very friend he shielded, but is not allowed to marry because the blood of an Indian flows through his veins. Opposed to the match are his college chums, who have stood by him through thick and thin in every situation else but this, bitter against him is the very person he befriended and hostile to his proposal, are the people of his own tribe. All turn in the very hour he needs their assistance most, but he is offered up his heart but she, too, at last finds that it is not for them to realize their hopes.

Play Well Acted

The theme is a powerful one and is in need of a perfect presentation in order that the full force of its import falls clear and shadowless upon its hearers. That full justice was done to it by the members of the Broadway company, the appreciation with which the play was received by the packed house is evidence enough. Not an appointment either in the scenery, distribution of the cast, or rendering of parts was lacking. From the very moment the audience was ushered into the rooms of the college students at Columbia, the players gripped the attention of their audience. That attention was held in a remarkable fashion in the scene of the football dressing room, where a gridiron battle is vividly described by Strongheart and carried on to reunion of the players after the game at a dance and justification until the final climax is attained in the declaration of love between Strongheart (Lander Stevens) and Dorothy Nelson (Georgia Cooper).

For outshining any of the other participants in the four act comedy drama was the work of Lander Stevens. It is doubtful if he has ever appeared to better advantage than he did last night as Strongheart, surely he never did in any what was more natural and compelling in interest. Best was he in the second act when his loyalty to friend and college finds expression in the most superb anxiety over the outcome of the football game. He wants to see his team win, even though he is forbidden to play because of false charges made against him of selling the secrets of the eleven to the opposing team. His description of the second half of the exhibition was one of the most difficult parts that has been allotted to him for many a week, but he got away with it so well that the audience gave Stevens a great ovation. Georgia Cooper, Anita Allen, Roy Clement, Al Dickinson, Jack Bennett, Al Halbert, Fred Muller and the others gave excellent support. Strongheart will run the balance of the week, with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. # EFFORT TO CLOUD TITLE FAILS

Large Section of Alameda County Involved in Peralta Grant Deal

The attempt to cloud the title to every piece of property in the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Emeryville and most of the land in Alameda county was frustrated yesterday by Judge Van Fleet in the United States circuit court, when he sustained the demurrer filed by Horace G. Platt on behalf of the Pacific Guano and Fertilizer Company, one of the defendants to the complaint filed to revive title under the Peralta grant.

Judge Van Fleet allowed the plaintiff twenty days in which to amend the complaint, but as the demurrer was a sweeping one, there is little left to amend.

This is the second time Attorney Platt has defeated a scheme to revive the Peralta grant. It was effectively stopped by Judge Bellinger, sitting in the United States district court in 1903, when a similar suit was begun and clouded the title to Alameda county property.

Johnson Explains How to Make Love and Win a Woman

"Don't Be Soft and Sweet to Them," Says Notorious Bigamist in Complete Confession of His Crimes; "Be Harsh and Distant"

DOCTORS HAD PREDICTED SHORT LIFE, SO HE MARRIED TO HAVE GOOD TIME

ADMITS BEING MADSON, WHO DUPED WOMEN FROM ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC

In Starting on His Seven Years' Sentence Johnson Confesses, Fearing Death Will Soon End His Career.

PORTLAND, July 13.—Investigation of the alleged confession of Christian C. Johnson seems to bear out the belief that he is the mysterious "John Madson." He is positively known to have been active here in 1906 and 1907 and to have made love to several women. His alleged confession to marrying "Liza Jones" in this city in 1906 is not exactly borne out by the facts, unless there were two women of the name of Jones. It is known that a marriage license was issued at Vancouver, Wash., on Feb. 16, 1907, to John Matson, to marry Mrs. Martha L. Jones, but in signing the document the recipient signed his name John Madson. His age was given as 54 and hers as 51. Madson deserted his wife after having secured a considerable sum of money from her.

With seven years in prison stretching before him and a belief that he will never live to gain his freedom, Christian Johnson, the wholesale bigamist who was arrested in San Francisco last week, and tried and convicted at the instigation of Mrs. Josephine Tretheway of Stockton, one of his many wives, in San Jose has admitted that he is John Madson, the famed polygamist for whom the police have been searching for years and has made a full confession of his remarkable career.

That Oakland appears to have been a favorite stamping ground for the wife dealer is proved by his frequent allusions to this city and the fact that he married three or four women here.

"The women I met fell in love with me after I had talked to them only a few times," says Johnson. "I have found that it did not pay to be soft and sweet with a woman. Treat her a little harsh, and be a little distant, and she will come to you. If I saw a woman that I really liked I made up my mind that I would make her fall in love with me, and it was very seldom that I failed to accomplish my wishes."

In speaking of his past career, Madson said yesterday:

"During the Russo-Japanese war I bought horses for the Japanese government. In 1905 I contracted the first marriage of my career, wedding Mrs. Mary Brown, a well to do widow. Together we went to Springfield. She gave me $500 on the wedding day and I took her to her daughter's house and left her. I didn't like her."

Makes Living Marrying

"I went from there to New Orleans. I have never heard from her to this day. I stayed in New Orleans for a while. In 1905 I did nothing wrong for nearly a year, applying my time to my business as horse dealer all that time. Then my health failed me. I could not continue my work and I quit my business altogether and since that day to this I have been making my living by marrying and making love to women and getting their money and then deserting them."

"I went that following summer, that is 1906 to San Francisco. My second marriage was to Mrs. Sylvia Pollard de Bonnet. I knew her for a year. I first met her in San Francisco. I met her through the newspaper advertisements. I met her by being introduced by a friend. We were married on December 21, 1906, in San Rafael. I at that time being known as Christian C. Johnson."

Weds Rich Widow

"I did not go to Germany, and was gone altogether about a month. I returned to San Francisco, and I was told that she was dead. Then I went to Portland in the fall. I put an advertisement in two daily papers, advertising for a wife. I do not know how many answers I got. I really could not count them. I think there must have been 500 answers to that one ad."

"I remained there for two months, and I was paying attention during that time to ten different women. I only married one woman out of the ten, under the name of John Madson. Her name was Liza Jones. I remember rightly her name was Liza Jones."

"She had been divorced from her husband and she owned a one-third interest in the biggest coal and wood yard in South Portland."

Got $1800 and Left

"I got $1800 from her because she said she loved me. I could have gotten $500 from the woman; I am sure that I could have."

"Later at Memphis I became acquainted with a Mrs. Bertha King and we lived together six weeks at Memphis. From there we went to Louisville, Ky., where we arrived about the 5th of May, 1907."

"At that time I read in the newspapers where the police were hunting all over the country for John Madson."

"I even read they were watching the general delivery in the postoffice. The police wanted me for marrying Mrs. Jones in Portland and for robbing her of the $1800."

"I left Mrs. King in Louisville and I went to Chicago."

Makes Love, Gets $200

"There I met Mrs. Minnie Allen. I never married her, though, but I made violent love to her and she paid me $200. She owned a good deal of property, a grocery store and a saloon, and I believe I could have had $2000 from her for the asking. At that time I was courting her I was courting seven other women and I got money from at least five of them."

"Mrs. Cattalina Baughman was one of them, and I couldn't exactly say for sure how much I got from her, not over $150. I promised to marry her, too, and I told her I was a little short of cash and she said she would let me have $150, which I took."

"One of the other women I courted and promised to marry was Mrs. Alice Richardson of St. Louis. She was a widow and living off her income and had

Hot Springs and she was the last one of all the women with whom I have dealt with that I would think would have had me arrested.

Out For Good Time

"I want to say that I married all of these women just to have a good time. The doctors told me I didn't have long to live, and I should enjoy myself while I lived. I was married more than 100 times, and I was very happy. I found pleasure in duping them and getting their money from them. You ask me how I happened to gain an influence over any woman I have met. Well, I can answer that by saying that I am not a hypnotist, but I only have to meet a woman a few times and I know just how to handle her and how to talk to her."

Be Harsh, Not Sweet

"The women I met fell in love with me after I had talked to them only a few times. I have found that it did not pay to be soft and sweet with a woman. Treat her a little harsh, and be a little distant, and she will come to you. If I saw a woman that I really liked I made up my mind that I would make her fall in love with me, and it was very seldom that I failed to accomplish my wishes."

"I started with the idea of getting money from women. I concluded those that I could get money from without doing any harm to them. I was wise that I married to get money otherwise I would have been in prison for a long time."

"The girl that I married in Los Angeles, Kate Hoene, I am really sorry for. She was 42 years of age, and I was sure she was innocent. I got $400 from her, and I really feel sorry for her."

"The stories I told the women that I married and courted were about the same in all cases. I told them I had a farm outside of Los Angeles. As a matter of fact, I own a farm there, and I later sold it. I also painted a pretty picture of a home on the Hudson river. I promised to take them there to live."

"I was very well received. I was in the East I told the women of my Southern California mansion. In the West here I blinded them with stories of the palatial home on the Hudson."

Sorry For But Two

"When I think back over all the women I have had dealings with, I really do not feel sorry for but two of them. One of them is Mrs. Bonnett and the other is Kate Hoene, who was the last one I married."

"Mrs. Bonnett was a good woman. Kate Hoene was an innocent old maid. The rest of them, those that answered matrimonial ads, thought they were getting a man with lots of money, and they were all deceived. I was looking for the money, and they were looking for a husband. I was just using them for my own ends."

"I called there about three or four times, and I married her on the 13th of February, and after I married her I got $320 from her. I left her that same night."

"Mrs. Tretheway, the woman I subsequently married, I met through the same paper. I inserted in the San Francisco paper. I called there maybe four times. I think, and I married her on the 15th of May here in San Jose. At the same time I was corresponding with Ida Mitchell, who lives in Ingleside."

"The reason that I was fired out of the house of Mrs. Tretheway was that she found one of Mrs. Mitchell's letters in my possession."

Cash From Oakland

"Mrs. Josephine Henninger, who lives in Oakland, was one of the many women who answered my ad. I went over to Oakland to see her and I got $200 from her. After procuring to marry her."

"There was one woman in San Francisco whose name I cannot recall, but who owns a hotel near the park, from whom I got $120. She thought that I was going to marry her also."

"I went to my marriage to Mrs. Tretheway in Stockton and after she kicked me out of the house, I went to San Diego, and I stayed there five weeks. I had become acquainted with a German lady. Her name was Mrs. Catherine Hoene."

"I met her in San Diego working in a hotel there. She came to my house and got acquainted with me and then we went to Los Angeles together. There we married on the 15th of June in the building next to the church on South Main and Second streets. I got the license under the name of John C. Anderson."

"We went to Long Beach and were living at 229 Pacific avenue, where I left her the 6th of the present month. I told her I was going to Germany on business and promised her I would return. I came up here on the 8th of July, responding with Miss Minnie Cather, and she, it appeared, had made arrangements with the detectives to trap me. I had known this Minnie Cather for some time. She called on me twice at Byron

ARREST AS AN ARSON SUSPECT

J. C. Christie Held Pending Investigation Into Origin of Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Fire Marshal Towe and Detective Sergeant Mulcahey have been busy all day investigating the mysterious blaze which originated in the butcher shop of J. C. Christie, 625 Clement street, early yesterday morning, and resulted in the destruction of $50,000 worth of property.

Christie was taken into custody at midnight. Detective Mulcahey stated this morning that he was looking into the matter of insurance on Christie's place, and has thus far found that he holds a policy for $50,000, although the man himself does not remember the unusual circumstance. He will be held until further inquiry can be made.

Christie was the first to greet the new member of the colony and they shook hands with the promise that they will be close friends.

Works With Collins

It is arranged that Johnson will join the forces in the jail mill, where Collins is working. The men probably will be placed side by side at their labors.

After dinner Johnson was given a number and put in the garb of a felon. He was assigned to a cell on the second tier.

The trip from San Jose today was one of the most extraordinary that a criminal has ever taken from that pretty town to the penitentiary.

"Whether it is that women go out of their way to see such a man and to desire to occupy their time for the want of something better to do or that they are really anxious to smile upon a man who has treated their sisters so cruelly, I cannot tell," remarked Mrs. Edward Stefano, a resident of Petaluma, who was on the train as Johnson boarded it.

But she continued, "there is one thing of which I am sure. Instead of these women turning out and making a fuss over this man, they should be home attending to their household duties and thanking their stars they are not among his victims."

Women to See Him

Johnson boarded the train at San Jose at 7:30 o'clock in charge of Deputy Sheriff J. M. Bushington. On the way from San Jose to the penitentiary, Johnson was surrounded by a crowd of women who were looking at him and staring at his face. Some of the women were crying and some were laughing.

At the station there were a hundred women and half as many men. Among them were several who had been called at the jail last night to get the bigamist and who were in court yesterday and who were in court yesterday and who were in court yesterday.

"Women Are Fools"

"It just goes to show you that women are fools," said Johnson to a Deputy Sheriff. "Look at them. If any man would come along and say nice things to half a million of women, they would be most of them, be polite and show an interest in their doings and hopes. They would be sure to follow him and he would find himself taking pity on them and proposing."

"And on the other hand, women should be careful about men. There are plenty of men who make a practice of deceiving women. Who do you think I am? I am a man who is always in danger of being deceived. I am a man who is always in danger of being deceived."

Senator's Daughter to Greet Navy Deserter on His Release

MRS. CHARLES MAGNESS, nee Ada Gorman.

NEW YORK, July 13.—After a year of waiting during which her love has never faltered, Mrs. Charles Magness, wife of the young navy deserter, is now counting the days which must elapse before the release of her husband, who was sentenced last December by a court martial to dishonorable discharge and a year's imprisonment. Owing to good behavior his sentence has been commuted to 125 days.

He has been confined at the naval "Bastille" at Portsmouth, N. J., and on visitors day of each week his wife has been among the patient waiters in the ante-room for the coveted half hour with their loved ones.

On his release which is expected to come the latter part of this week, the exact result of the hearing before the board of pardon which has his case under advisement has not been announced. Magness will go to the benefit of his wife's mother in Washington which has been completed since his incarceration. Every effort will be made to re-enlist him in favor of the White House and the same powerful influence which has served to lighten his prison term will be exerted to this end when he is again free.

Mrs. Magness before her romantic runaway marriage which was solemnized in "The Little Church Round the Corner" in New York, while the naval officer was searching for the young bridegroom, was the popular Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator Gorman. The Senator has died since Magness' incarceration and it is thought that his death has hastened his release.

He built just before he passed away together with his large fortune, a new home in the hands of his widow but will go to Mrs. Magness on her mother's death.

$12,000,000 TO FINANCE POWER PLANT SCHEME

Southern Pacific's Plan for Electrifying Mountain Road Includes Some Gigantic Engineering Feats.

It has been learned since the announcement a few days ago to the effect that the Southern Pacific Company was to replace steam by electric power in a large part of its system in California, that a plan is on foot by W. P. Hammond to divert the waters of Lake Tahoe to a nine-mile tunnel to the Rubicon river, and that the Bay Cities Water Company has financed a $12,000,000 electric power prospect on the south fork of the American river.

These activities, together with what is being done by William F. Bourn on the Yuba, would imply that the intentions of the Southern Pacific in its change to electric power are on a larger scope than has yet been admitted.

Talked Too Soon

William Hood, chief engineer of the Southern Pacific, considers the announcement of the plans of the railroad for steam to have been premature, and he ordered an investigation to discover the extent of the plans of the Rubicon river, and that the Bay Cities Water Company has financed a $12,000,000 electric power prospect on the south fork of the American river.

I am convinced that none of my men have given out this information," he said yesterday, and intimated that he thought the facts of the Sierra city filings had come from the forest supervisor, when he advised interviewers to seek that official for further information.

"When the plans for the use of electric power are ready, I will give out a type-written statement," he continued. "At present, we do not know how much of the line will be operated by electricity, and we cannot say how much of the line will be operated by electricity."

Equipment Not Ordered

This is the first time that an authoritative statement has been made that the engineers working on the Rubicon at Hell Hole were in the field in the interest of the plans of the Southern Pacific Company to run its trains over the Sierra by electric power, and Hood also confirms the "premature" announcement in the dispatch from Nevada City that the Southern Pacific Company has acquired rights on the Yuba river.

"It is not true, however," Hood added with emphasis, "that the electric equipment has been ordered for the mountain division."

Meanwhile others are at work and the Southern Pacific Company will not find a clear field in the mountain power situation. Hammond, Bourn and the Bay Cities Water Company all have strong power projects near where the line of the railroad crosses the Sierras.

Plan For Tunnel

Hammond's plan, which has hitherto been kept a carefully guarded secret, is for an enormous tunnel through the heart of the mountains from Lake Tahoe nine miles in a westerly direction, opening on the steep sides of Hell Hole. This is the location chosen by Hammond's engineers for their power station, and there is said to be a fall of 2000 feet, and that the sides of the canyon are very nearly perpendicular. This is also the location selected by the Rubicon Power Company, which Hood acknowledged yesterday, might be acquired by the Southern Pacific Company whenever that company was ready.

"If Hammond's plan is for a tunnel it is not in conflict with us," Hood asserted, and gives the advice that the proper man to talk to is Hammond, who is in New York. Hammond's associates here admit that there may be some controversy in Hell Hole shortly, but they express the belief that it will be settled amicably.

$12,000,000 Capital

C. N. Seal, representing the Bay Cities Water Company project on the south fork of the American river, is at present in New York, where he is reported to have secured $12,000,000 from a source closely allied to Morgan for the development of 25,000 horse-power. The water rights, which are fundamental to this project, were granted to an association of miners by Congress during the earlier gold mining days and were afterward acquired by the Bay Cities Water Company, which incorporated them for a time in a project which was submitted to the city. More recently the ground has been carefully surveyed by Duryea, Hatch & Gilman, and the engineering features of the power scheme were planned in elaborate detail. With these plans Seal went East, seeking $12,000,000, which he is reported to have secured. He will remain in the East until October, during which time the details of the financing will be worked out.

Great Engineering Feat

Hammond's project appears to be considerably larger than was first announced, when it was said that $10,000,000 a year would be expended by the company in development work for the next four years. The driving of the nine-mile tunnel from Lake Tahoe to Hell Hole is a stupendous engineering feat in itself, and it will require the consent of the Federal Government to divert the waters of Lake Tahoe from their natural course, through the bed of the Truckee, into Nevada, to the Rubicon and north fork of the American, and thence through California to the Pacific ocean.

An understanding has already been reached by Hammond with the Interior Department for a joint control of the present outlet of Clear Lake, under terms which the Government engineers will not interfere with the plans for the Truckee-Carson Irrigation project.

VOTE MONEY FOR SIERRA WATER

San Francisco Supervisors Make Important Steps Toward Securing Supply

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Two important steps in obtaining the Sierra water supply for San Francisco were taken by the board of supervisors yesterday. The first money was voted, $2,000, in the condemnation suit which the city has begun to secure Lake Eleanor as its first reservoir site. The final payment was voted of $100,000, having been paid down when the bargain was struck in February of 1908, and $40,000 in August. To the $100,000 payment was added $5,854.60, interest at 5 per cent from August 1, 1908 to July 24 of this year. McAllister have made his attack against the interest instead of the principal.

Sixteen supervisors voted for the proposition—McAllister to all the motions registering his "no."

Murdoch was absent. The first relief was for the appropriation of $100,000 for final payment on the Smith lands, $1,000 having been paid down when the bargain was struck in February of 1908, and $40,000 in August. To the $100,000 payment was added $5,854.60, interest at 5 per cent from August 1, 1908 to July 24 of this year. McAllister have made his attack against the interest instead of the principal.

Fuller Slowly Losing Sight

Friend of Automobilists Blind and May Remain So Permanently

FITCHBURG, July 13.—Charles Fuller, known to automobilists from one end of the State to the other, is blind. For the past year his eyesight has been gradually dimming, and although he has been under the care of the best San Jose specialists for months past, they could do nothing for him. Fuller is under constant medical attention at his residence in Fitchburg, and he is compelled to wear glasses on his eyes day and night. Whether he will be permanently blind cannot be stated.

While it was known to a few intimate friends that he was in danger of going blind, the knowledge of his present condition was kept a secret from the public. His affliction is due to injury by gas while fixing some plumbing. Fuller is the son of a prominent San Jose family. His father, J. W. Fuller, was a member of the board of directors of the San Jose Water Company. Notwithstanding his blindness, Fuller is a live in the management of the plant.

DISEASE INFECTED SQUIRRELS ARE KILLED

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning a communication was received from William J. Snow, M. D., secretary of the State Board of Health, to the effect that the State Board of Health had found that a number of ground squirrels infected with bubonic plague had been found in various parts of Contra Costa county.

This fact, the doctor continued, is of special significance, because large numbers of ground squirrels are believed to have been taken into various cities about the State. The danger of a reappearance of bubonic plague is a serious matter, and it is requested that you take adequate measures to suppress the plague and to guard against its reappearance. The matter was referred to the county health officer.

SAYS WOMAN RUBBED HIM.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—James Gomez, a cook, reported to Police Constable Clark and Stogelich this morning that he had been robbed $27.50 by Gertrude Bates, with whom he had been spending the evening at a dancing resort in the Tenderloin. He said the officer that there were seven $5 gold pieces among his coin. Several $5 gold pieces were found upon the woman, who was taken to the Central station for grand larceny.

TEAMSTER IS INJURED.

Fred Lawrence, teamster residing on Piedmont avenue, was struck and thrown from his horse by a car. After extracting himself from the wreck he went to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. The car was damaged and the driver was not injured.

A stupendous engineering feat in itself, and it will require the consent of the Federal Government to divert the waters of Lake Tahoe from their natural course, through the bed of the Truckee, into Nevada, to the Rubicon and north fork of the American, and thence through California to the Pacific ocean.

KAUFMAN WON'T MEET JOHNSON

OAKLAND WHEELMEN'S SHOW TONIGHT WILL BRING TOGETHER GOOD MEN

KAUFMAN WILL DECLINE THE OFFER OF MATCH AT PRESENT

Oakland Wheelmen Will Show at Piedmont With Krantz and Sullivan as Main Event—Jeffries Will Fight.

By EDDIE SMITH.

It seems that the promoters of boxing have taken to the habit of signing one man of a pair they wish to match and when that one has been signed the match is announced as made. Last night Sidney Hester announced that he had signed Al Kaufman and Jack Johnson for a twenty round contest for the heavy weight championship of the world. When questioned further it was found that Hester had simply heard from Johnson and that he had not even signed the black man to a set of articles.

Johnson has agreed to meet Kaufman before Hester's Mission Athletic Club, however, for $10,000, win, lose or a draw and a privilege of 40 per cent of the gross gate receipts, if that amount should mean more money. Now that Johnson says he will fight Hester immediately announces that he has the match made. Kaufman and Billy Delaney have something to say regarding this match, however, and Billy announces that he will not allow Kaufman to fight the colored man for several months, and probably not this year.

Said Billy this morning, when reached on the phone, "It is not my intention to let Kaufman fight Johnson for some time, we were perfectly willing to take the big black on some time ago, in fact, we went begging for a match. Johnson run out on us three times now and no doubt has an idea that he can break matches with us when he pleases and make them again when he sees fit. Well, Mr. Johnson is to have a very sad awakening, for we will not fight him for some time, and before the match is made Mr. Johnson will be just as anxious as Kaufman was when Johnson first agreed to meet us. I want to send Al East for a few months before the Johnson fight and this will mean that I can not agree to let him fight next month."

That settles the Kaufman-Johnson match for the present at least. Delaney now realizes that his man is the only logical candidate for the heavy weight championship of the world and that he will be an attraction in the show business for some little time. Al Kaufman, billed as the only white man in the game who has a chance to beat Johnson, would be some card throughout the East and Delaney is not the one to overlook that fact. Hester will not be at all pleased when he hears that Kaufman will not fight, for last night he was all smoked up over the prospects of a match.

Another thing that will keep the match from being made is the fact that Delaney will not want to do anything that may interfere with the plans of W. A. Brady, who is looking after the interests of Kaufman.

Jeff Says He Will Fight

It is not a bit polite to say "I told you so," but the fact that Jeffries comes right back with an announcement that he will fight Jack Johnson and that he will fight Jack Johnson and that he will fight Jack Johnson makes it appear that we were right yesterday when we said that if Jeffries had any such announcement to make he would make it in this country and not at Montreal.

Jim came to last night with a denial of the story and says that he will fight Johnson and that he will beat him and beat him good. He says that the man who said he would not fight Johnson had evidently had a long draw from a pipe or hop and so on, but that does not change the opinion of many of his friends that he will not fight just the same, and for one I will believe Jeffries is going to fight Johnson the day he walks into the ring and not until then.

Johnson was of course given plenty of chance to raise money for his dispirited fight yesterday, and the big fellow certainly did so to a queen's taste. Big Jack said that he knew Jeffries was afraid of him and had always been afraid since the time he witnessed the defeat of his brother Jack at the hands of Johnson, and even went so far as to say that he would be willing to give Jeffries $2500 if he will sign articles for a fight.

The statement issued for the press by Johnson may have a tendency to bring the big men together a little quicker, if they are ever to face each other in the ring for it may be the Jeff to a fighting pitch.

Wheelmen Show Tonight

The Oakland Wheelmen will stage the best card of boxing tonight that they have ever staged and to accommodate the large crowd they expect at the show they have rented the Piedmont Pavilion and will hold all of their contests there in the future. Mike (Twin) Sullivan, the welter weight champion of America will meet Kid Krantz in the main event, and to say the least this looks like a match of class.

Krantz in his contest with Terry Keller at the West Oakland Club made many friends in Oakland who believe that he will have a chance with any of the best ones in the game if he is properly handled. Krantz has a weak jaw and will never become a champion, but with a better whose driving power is not greater than Sullivan's there is not such a great danger of his being put away in six rounds.

Mike has the experience and cleverness on Krantz, but the fact that Krantz was able to stay away Burgess in one round has been a great boost to his hitting power.

Frank (Kid) Burns will meet Frankie Edwards in the special event and this should also prove a good contest. There is very little likelihood of a knockout being registered in this contest, but it should be replete with fast and hard hitting, and in it Burns will receive the severest test as to his ability that he has had since entering the field of ambitious champions.

Johnny O'Keefe and Jack Duarte, two sluggers with great punching power, will exchange swings in one of the six round contests and as both men lost the last time out they can be depended upon to do at one another with a will. Jimmy Fruton vs. Bob Evans, Jim Foley vs. Congo Coos and a four round preliminary will make up the card for the night.

Nelson Fights Tonight

Tonight at Los Angeles Battling Nelson and Ad Wolgast will exchange wallop for ten rounds in a no-decision contest. Nelson writes that he is in good shape for the contest and that he will fight Wolgast inside of the ten round limit. Wolgast is little better than a good second-rater and Nelson may get him, but the fact that Wolgast is one of the awkward

Frank Chance Taken To Task by Magnates For Alleged Criticism

NEW YORK, July 12.—In the future baseball players and managers will have to be more careful of their remarks when they criticize any action taken by the board of directors of the National League or by the national commission.

The national commission recently investigated an interview alleged to have been had with Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Nationals, in which Chance was quoted as having accused the members of the national commission of having overstepped their authority in recommending that a bonus of $10,000 be divided among all the players who were declared eligible by the national commission to participate in last year's world series.

The Chicago manager cleared himself, but the situation was embarrassing, to say the least.

Ban Johnson has warned players to be cautious in calling members of the national commission to task, and any player is heard making remarks of the sort Ban says he will be expelled from the game.

Jerry Freeman-Stinging Ball at .309 Clip for Toledo Baseball Club

Outfielder Strunk, whom "Count" Mack recently shipped to Milwaukee, is hitting to the tune of .371 for his first eight games and tops the American Association. Charley Carr, Indianapolis' leader, is the rightfielder, though.

For fifty-seven games he is batting .327. The hitting that the Kelly-Papke fight was not on the job just the same, for the newspaper decisions given at Los Angeles are sometimes funny ones and Mr. Ad Wolgast is a protégé of Uncle Tom McCue.

Billy Papke is reported as being willing to bet $1000 against $5000 that Wolgast will win by the knockout. Nelson called the bluff, but Billy did not bet. Papke does not feel thusly, but he has a grudge against Nelson for the Batting Order's hitting that the Kelly-Papke fight was not on the level and he will go out of his way to knock the champion. Papke and Flynn fight tomorrow night at Los Angeles.

Corbett to Marry

Young Corbett has received a knock-out wallop from Kid Cupid and next Sunday he will be married to a handsome young southern lady, whether he wins or loses. Miss Daisy Meresereau is the lucky young lady and, according to Corbett, she has no objection to his continuing in the ring.

Corbett wants to win from Frayne above all other things because he believes it will give him a chance to get a crack at Jimmy Britt, against whom Corbett has had a grudge since the night Britt was given a hair line decision over him. Corbett has visions of plenty of money if he can beat Frayne and to do the trick he is training harder than he ever did for any of his championship bouts.

Wolgast was the top notcher of the featherweights.

Frayne is training just as hard, for a losing fight at this time would mean that Frayne would be shelved and he must win right to make a hit with the fans and get other matches.

Langford Match Off

The morning dispatches say that the Langford-Ketchel fight is off. Who ever heard of it being on? No one ever considered the match made except Willie Britt and he was of the opinion that all he had to do was to sign Ketchel and then offer the negro coon and cake money in comparison and the smoke would jump at it.

Well, Langford has not done anything of the kind. He says that he has over come that to fight Tommy Burns in London and that he believes he will take the chance with Tommy for more money. That settles the Ketchel match for the present. Probably it will please Hall and Britt to hear that Langford has made up his mind to fight in London.

Hugh McIntosh, the manager for Tommy Burns and is handling the fight in London and Langford, through his manager, Joe Woodman, has accepted. The contest may be just a bloomer, but at any rate it makes the Ketchel match look bad.

Truesdale Is Playing Great Ball for Dallas Club in Texas League

Frank Truesdale, who had to leave the Oakland Coast League Club this spring on account of his health, is playing great ball for Dallas. The Texas climate just suits him, and he is back again at second base, his old position, and fielding it in the same faultless style that made his work around the coast the talk of the season last fall. His batting average two weeks ago was .243, but since then hardly a game has passed but he did not get one or two bingles a day. He leads off in the batting order.

Bernie McCoy, who was captain of the Athenians for awhile this season, has also met with success on the Mobile club in the Texas league. He is not playing third now but has gone into the outfield and is holding down the right garden.

Decline of Handsome Nick Altrock Recalls His Best Year With Sox

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—Pitcher Nick Altrock, upon whom waiver has been asked by the Washington Club, has been tried three times since the Washington Club got him from the Sox and has failed to deliver. He is one of the veterans of the American League and reached the height of his career with the Sox in 1906, when his clever work in the box helped materially to land them their league pennant and the world's championship. Cantillon also has asked waivers on Tom Hughes and Jesse Tannehill.

Manager Joe Cantillon of the Washington Nationals has offered Manager Ebb of Memphis, Tenn., Pitcher Altrock, and Tannehill and Outfielder Frank Hemphill. Ebb replied that he was filled and couldn't use them.

Tyrus Cobb Needs but 3 More Stolen Bases to Equal His 1908 Record

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, is again proving a whirlwind on the sacks. Although the half-way station of the 1909 campaign has not been reached, Cobb needs but three more stolen bases to equal his 1908 mark.

Including the games of Tuesday of last week Cobb has swiped 30 bases. He has participated in the 71 fouls played by the Tigers. Last year in 150 games Cobb stole 33 bases. Dougherty was the leader last year, with 47 in 138 games, but the Hon. Patrick has been on the sick list a greater part of the present season and owns only 15 pilfers in 54 games.

It was by far the most exciting match event ever seen here.

JOHNSON, UMPIRE'S FRIEND, STOOD BY CANTILLON WHEN CONNIE MACK WAS ON WARPATH

Connie Mack was managing Milwaukee in the early days of the American League when finances were uncertain. Joe Cantillon was umpiring there when, to save railroad fares the umpires were kept in one city for a week or so. Mack thought the Milwaukee was getting anything but a fair deal out of Cantillon's prolonged stay.

The afternoon came when Cantillon received a telegram from the league chief to shift, and Mack heart about it. He got out Joe.

"Well, you big stiff," casually remarked Mack, "you're going to leave us this afternoon and I thought I'd drop around to say 'goodbye' for you're not coming back to rob us again. You're going away not to return, for I telegraphed Ban Johnson this morning, ordering him to keep you out of Milwaukee the rest of your life."

Connie thought that Milwaukee was getting a hot deal, but Mack was not at the ball park that afternoon.

The next morning Ban Johnson arrived at his office in Chicago to find an early caller. The caller was Cantillon and the league head admitted him to his private office. Joe did not waste words in any introductory paragraphs. He came right to the point.

"Johnson," yelled Cantillon, "who's running this league—you or Connie Mack?"

"I'm running this league; what's Mack got to do with it?"

And then Cantillon told the whole story; told how Mack had ordered Johnson to keep Cantillon out of Milwaukee; the fond farewell message that Connie had tendered him; the few other tokens of esteem an dregard which fell to his lot in the city of Milwaukee. Johnson had a reply ready the second Cantillon finished. Said Ban:

"You got the next train out of Chicago for Milwaukee and you stay there till the season ends."

Welch ruled favorite in the betting and had the better of the bout throughout.

Tennis Experts Leave For East to Enter in Championship Games

Melville Long, singles champion of the Pacific Coast, and Maurice McLaughlin and George Jones, the doubles champions in tennis left last night for New York where they will participate in the Western and National tournaments.

It is expected that Thomas Bundy and Simpson Sinsbaugh will leave tomorrow night.

The players will go direct to Minneapolis and take part in the Northwestern championship at Lake Minnetonka on July 19th. The Western championship will be the next tournament in which they will compete. This event is held at the courts of the Onwentsia Club, at Lake Forest, near Chicago, on July 24.

Jones and McLaughlin will be the Coast representatives in the preliminary double tournament for the national championship. Only four teams were in this preliminary tournament, and they are the teams representing the four districts, namely, Eastern, Southern, Western and Pacific States. This also takes place on the Onwentsia Club courts on August 2.

The national championship will be held at Newport on August 17. Melville Long and Bundy will go to New York to try for the New York State championship, which takes place August 2, the same time as the preliminary tournament to the national doubles.

Beck, Who Played With Seals Last Year, to Be Released by Boston

Fred Beck, drafted from San Francisco by Boston last Fall, is to be released.

Eddie Cullen, one of the greatest of the batmen and outfielders of 30 years ago, has been elected manager of the Olympic Club in the heavy-weight division. He is nearly all in and stork. While playing left field for Cincinnati in 1878 he put out 11 men and made one assist in one game, which record has never been equalled.

Koester, Wigge and Browning have pitched no-hit games in the Coast League this year.

It was expected that the winners of these bouts would fight a week hence for the right to meet Monte Attel of California for the bantam weight championship. But as the McGovern-Goldman bout was inconclusive there will have to be further preliminaries.

Shorten Deer Season In Sonoma County

SANTA ROSA, July 12.—The open season for killing deer was shortened one month here by an ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors on Friday afternoon. For some time past the sportsmen of the county have been discussing the matter, and it was the consensus of opinion that the open season fixed by the State law was entirely too long and would result in ruthless slaughter of the deer. Supervisor Green introduced an ordinance to limit the open season in Sonoma county between July 15th and October 1st, instead of one month later, as the State law holds.

Many Stars, Lundgren Included, Dimming Fast In the Major Leagues

Carl Lundgren, star twirler on the world famous Cubs, is about to take the high dive from major league baseball to the semipro, although, according to several other major leaguers, the dive is not a bad bath to take.

Lundgren is clocking right now with Frank McNichols, boss of the West Linds, in the Chicago Baseball League, and the Windy City magnate hopes to land his signature to a contract.

The player and manager have been corresponding for several days over the deal and expect to close it soon. McNichols has had Lundgren on the telephone down at Marengo several times and will probably run down and wind up the deal in person.

McNichols has landed another man on his pitching staff in Jack Ortiz, the University of Michigan twirler, who has been playing with River Forest so far, but who was only an added expense to that club when "Doc" Hillebrand came back from the East.

Herbert Duncan Holds Three Wrestling Titles

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—To Herbert Duncan, the versatile mat artist from the Olympic Club, fell the honors of the day in the "Bik's" contest. Duncan, in the interim's struggle, managed to win the championship title in the water-weight division, middle-weight and the light heavy-weight class, meeting in all five opponents during the bouts. Richard Allen of the Los Angeles Athletic Club defeated Otto Walden of the Olympic Club in the heavy-weight division, the referee calling for an extra three minutes to decide the match.

George Retzer of the Los Angeles Athletic Club defeated J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club in the 135-pound class. Parker came back later and won an exciting match from H. W. Hake of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, throwing his opponent in the 165-pound class in 5:48.

3 GAMES PER WEEK FOR OUTLAWS

STATE LEAGUE WILL CONTINUE FIGHT AGAINST ORGANIZED BASEBALL

INVADERS AND STOCKTONITES

OPEN UP SERIES OF 3 GAMES

JULY 17 AT GROVE-ST. PARK

Cream of Players from San Jose and Santa Cruz Will Join Other Outlaw Teams—Cy Moreing Is in Independent Ball to Stay

Commencing this week, the State League will provide only three games a week in the three cities that now constitute the league. One game will be played on Saturday and a double header will be played on Sunday with one game in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. The management figures that under the new plan better baseball can be given the fans as the two weak teams Fresno and San Francisco will be strengthened by the addition of the best players from the Santa Cruz and San Jose teams and they will be in better shape to cope with the Millers and the Invaders both of which are strong aggregations with the present personnel of players.

Pres. Moreing will have first choice of players from the two teams that with him and already has closed with Stricklett the former San Jose manager and captain and with Oscar Jones who pitched phenomenal ball for the Stockton. When they have taken the players that they want, Tom Hackett will step in and select from the balance and then if Stockton and Oakland want to recruit the other players will be at their service. Danny Shay thinks that his present team is satisfactory and will not make any additions while Moreing will probably make arrangements to strengthen his team in one or two spots. The men who have been blacklisted from organized baseball will be taken care of first.

Moreing to Stay in "Outlaw" Field

It is acknowledged now that the State Leaguers and the Consters tried to get together and settle the baseball war as far as Oakland was concerned but it seems that no agreement could be reached because of the same differences that arose last winter when the organized forces endeavored to have Moreing and the other outlaws enter the fold and become a Class B league. At that time Moreing held out for protection for himself and when the community was refused Moreing bucked and declared his intention of standing with the outlaws until the last. For that reason and no other, the two leagues failed to get together and now according to the so called outlaw management the same difference is keeping them apart. It has been said that the opposing leagues differed about a small matter of grounds but the main reason is that protection is demanded for the chief offenders and is refused.

There may be something doing when Garry Hermann arrives on the scene but the State Leaguers assert that they are satisfied to go ahead with the new arrangement and that there will be no further conferences looking toward a settlement.

In the matter as to who took the initiative in broaching the matter of consolidation of the two clubs Bill Moreing states that a friend of Ed Walter and also of Cy Moreing asked the latter if he would not meet the Oakland Coast League president and see if the baseball situation could not be discussed. Moreing readily gave his consent, but made acknowledgment that he did not believe any agreement would be reached.

Blacklisted Players to Be Protected

The State League with the adoption of a four-club basis and a new schedule will continue playing independent ball that point has been settled. The officials of the league figure that under the new arrangement the expenses are much less. A four-day rate on the railroad for the players is carried on the staff of each club. Better baseball will be provided for the fans than heretofore as the cream of the entire league will now be merged into the four clubs. All the men who have deserted organized baseball to join the outlaws will be fully protected.

With the complete reorganization which will be completed within the next few days and the strengthening of the two weaker clubs with the men taken from the two teams that have been disbanded the officials of the league expect the second part of the 1935 season to be the most successful in the history of the league.

Stricklett formerly with Brooklyn Krueger the property of Kansas City Magruder of Des Moines Lovett of Denver and Miller of Denver will be taken care of. Happy Smith will either go to the Chicago Nationals or the Oakland Coast League although Charley Graham of Sacramento has been attempting to sign him. Graham also has his eye upon Outfielder Lovett and Hap Myers the hard hitting first sacker.

Pitchers Hoag and Lene Catcher Burke and Outfielder McLaughlin have been released by Stockton, and Moreing has released Shortstop Vito, Pitcher Walthour, Catcher Hust and Pitcher Tripp. Ed Spencer of Boston will not join the Invaders. Tub Hackett will remain at the helm of the San Francisco team while for the present at least McDonough will direct the playing of the Tigers.

Moreing declares that he is in outlaw baseball to stay and has not the least doubt that under the new arrangement the California State League would give the fans of Oakland the best ball they had ever seen. "We are in the fight to stay," was his final declaration on the subject and, judging from his devotion to the league in the past, there is little doubt that he means every word he says.

Santa Cruz Wants to Get Back

Manager Swanton of Santa Cruz says the league directors took snap judgment in dropping Santa Cruz so quick, as he evidently thought he had meeting to defer definite action until Monday.

Swanton stated last night that Santa Cruz fans would have been willing, if it had been necessary, and claims that his appeal to Frank Gurnsey, the managing director of the Stockton team to reserve definite action until Monday, Gurnsey claiming that he was not at the meeting. He said that no effort was made to have the former action of the directors rescinded. To meet any deficit that might arise, Swanton referred to the heavy response came from the grandstand Sunday when Mayor Drullman appeared on the grounds at the conclusion of Sunday's game and made an appeal for funds.

Moreing, however, says that Swanton always declared that he wanted to quit, and so it was thought best to leave any dissatisfied club out. Swanton is now sorry he spoke. He says the people down there have raised a lot of money and didn't want to be dropped. Cy Moreing called his attention to the telegram of withdrawal that came from him, whereat Swanton said the directors had not authorized it, or words to that effect. He was told that his change of front was too late and Santa Cruz stands dropped with no chance of getting back into the State League fold.

ACTRESS SUES FOR SEPARATION

Christie MacDonald Wants Freedom From William Jefferson

NEW YORK July 13—Christie MacDonald, famous light opera singer is suing for freedom from her husband, William Winter Jefferson son of the late Joseph Jefferson. She filed her action for separation in the courts of New York upon her visit to this country about four weeks ago.

Theatrical circles were amazed by the news as the Jeffersons were considered an ideal married couple and Mrs. Jefferson one of the most domesticated of actresses.

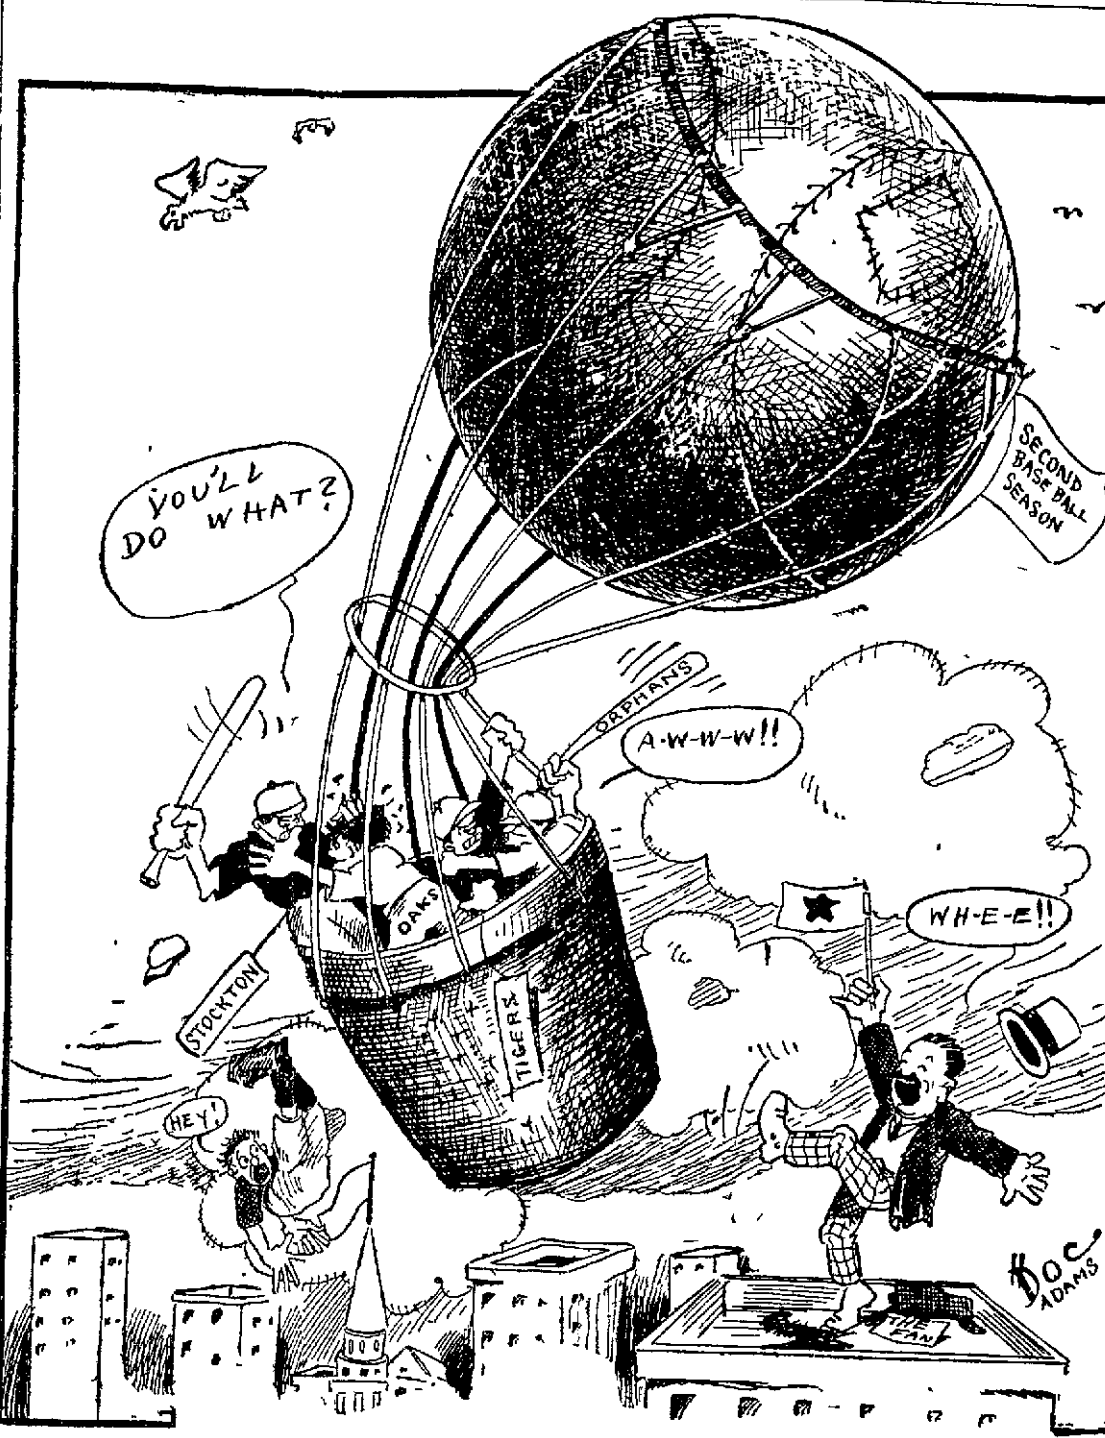

Mrs. MacDonald made a hurried trip from Paris to file the suit for separation. She returned abroad almost immediately. Although several friends saw her while she was here few if any knew the real object of her visit. While here she is reported to have declared that she has shaken the dust of the Jefferson family from my feet. I am through with it for good.

It was reported that Jefferson had told friends that he would begin a counter-suit but that he would sue for divorce naming a man who had been considered a close friend of his.

Mrs. Joseph Jefferson mother of William Jefferson widow of the famous actor said that the domestic difference between her son and his wife involved no scandal.

The only cause of trouble she said, "has been that my son's wife has insisted upon living with her family or that they live with her. This led to an inharmonious life."

HAP SMITH OF SAN JOSE LEADS FIRST BASEMAN PYL OF STOCKTON IN HITTING WITH AVERAGE OF .360

Shay, Householder, Townsend, Meyers, Carney and Burns in .300 Class—Tommy Sheehan Bats .267 in 101 Games

As exciting as the race for the pennant in the State league was this battle for supremacy in batting honors between Hap Smith of San Jose and First Base man Pyl of Stockton. The Garden City topper won out by a nose. In the last two weeks his stock took a big jump and he reaped out singles and doubles with increasing regularity. From .335 he brought himself up to the .360 notch where he is now reposing as King. Pyl is twelve points behind and an easy second. The nearest man to oppo so him was Danny Shay who holds an average of .323. Townsend and Meyers of San Jose are tied at the .315 mark. ### RISKS HIS LIFE; SAVES COMPANION

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Drags Younger Boy Safely Out of Creek

FITCHBURG July 13—Ghetto Muller a 14-year old boy risked his life to save that of Jim Nixon aged 12, who was fast sinking while swimming in Fitchburg creek yesterday when the orphan rescued him and brought him safe to land.

A number of boys of the neighborhood were swimming near the second floatage on Fitchburg creek when young Nixon got beyond his depth and soon became exhausted. His cry for help was heard by his companions several of whom were in the water. Ghetto Muller who is an expert swimmer, used the overhand stroke in his race with death and reached the drowning boy just as he was going down the second time.

With difficulty Muller swam with his charge to the shore where he sank in an exhausted condition after his effort.

USE QUEUE TO HANG CHINESE

Laundryman Cruelly Treated by Boys Said to Be From Oakland

GUERNEVILLE July 13—Because he refused to return articles of laundered apparel unless payment was made on delivery several Oakland High School boys who are camping in this vicinity are believed to have been responsible for the treatment accorded Hop Lee, who was discovered by Adolph Brunner yesterday hanging by his queue to a tie on one of the railroad trestles.

Brunner, who had arisen to go fishing while crossing a trestle between this place and Guerneville Park was horrified to see the body of the Chinese swinging in mid air beneath his feet. After much effort he managed to pull the Chinese up through the opening between the ties. According to the laundryman's story, he incurred the disaster of his fellows by refusing to deliver laundry without pay. The Chinese left his shack yesterday to deliver washing and on his return was met by the same crowd of lads. The Chinese queue was knotted to the tie and he was left to dangle above the ground. Aside from a strained scalp Hop Lee seems none the worse for his experience. "I washed all you clo's free," he is said to have told Brunner.

HORSE AND RIG GO INTO THE CREEK

Dangerous Hole on Twenty-seventh Avenue Results in Second Accident

FRUITVALE, July 13.—A horse and wagon, the latter loaded with bottles of ketchup and pickles, were precipitated into Samus Creek on Twenty-seventh avenue yesterday afternoon, a distance of thirty feet from the roadway. By a lucky chance Fleming Dempster, the owner of the outfit had just stepped off the wagon when the horse backed over the embankment. Neither the horse nor the wagon were badly injured.

This is the second similar occurrence within the last few months. Last winter a milkman met his death in a plunge from the roadway into the creek. The residents have made many complaints to the Board of Supervisors about the lack of a fence across the danger hole.

STRENGTH, AMBITION, ENERGY

Are Impossible Without Rich, Red Blood—A Detroit Woman Expresses an Opinion.

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for run-down conditions of the health is based on sound medical principles and on common sense. More and more men and women are beginning to realize that pure, red blood means health and that the efficiency of any tissue or organ is entirely dependent upon the quality of the blood.

There are thousands of people who are without ambition or strength to do their day's work and who are always tired out, have but little appetite and a poor digestion, cannot get a refreshing night's sleep and are subject to aches, backaches and nervousness because their blood is impure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give quick relief and permanently cure such men and women because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. As the blood becomes pure and red it strengthens the muscles, stomach capable of digesting the food, and repairs the wastes caused by growth and work.

George Morgan of No. 118 Twenty-third street, Detroit, Mich., says:

"I suffered with general debility for over a year after gradually declining in health from overwork. I had but little blood, no strength or ambition and was weak and thin. My appetite was poor. I was reduced in flesh and was all tired out. I felt miserable all the time and could not do any work. I was sent on a visit to relatives with the hope that a change would benefit me, but after several weeks I had not improved.

"Most of this time I was taking the doctor's medicine without benefit and getting discouraged. My aunt urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I gained in flesh and strength and took the pills until cured. Since then I have been strong, robust and healthy."

"Diseases of the Blood."

Showing what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in anemia and other blood diseases, will be sent free upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SPLENDID DRAMA CHARMS AUDIENCE

"The Servant in the House" Proves to Be a Remarkable Production

It might possibly be wrong to speak of "The Servant in the House," produced last night in the Macdonough Theater, as being weird; yet the play is so alluring and so full of life and so sparkling with vivid representations of twentieth century hypocrisy, that "weird" would express the idea, if it were not for the underlying spiritual interpretation.

The play is of such excellent mould and is so thoroughly saturated with comparative instances of the inadequacy of false pretensions, that all may grasp the meaning of this most exceptional performance, if the requisite care is paid to the unwritten words.

Shakespeare says that dramatic art is judged not only by visible actions, but by the invisible thought produced on the audience. If he is to be considered an authority, then this production of Charles Mann Kennedy is to be ranked as a high class drama, for an untold sense of spiritual uprising is felt by all who witness it.

Good and Evil

The plot is none of the fastidious love-matches of the popular drama; none of the melodramatic climaxes or heroic deeds; but simply a great, grand struggle between good and evil, a struggle for a harmonious union of the general brotherhood of men.

The words, "The Servant in the House," mean more than simply a domestic; they mean the helping hand of God to all the world, illustrated by the small community of the vicarage and the worthy butler, Manson. This butler, portrayed by Wilfred Roger, introduces a new type.

During the entire performance he says little, but influences mightily by his pure ideals. Around him centers the psychological development. For some ten minutes after the curtain rises in the first act one does not catch a full glance of his countenance, as he is arranging the side board, conversing with one of his fellow servants. Then he turns, and faces the audience with the most beautiful face, form, features, dress portray an exact likeness of the Christ. Now one hears the full melodious voice, and the colorers are too dazzled with the beauty of the vicarage and the worthy butler, Manson. In fact all through the pieces there is but little applause, as the wonder of the play draws the people away from material surroundings.

DARING ROBBER TAKES UP CHASE

Irvin Pierson Refuses to Hold Up Hands and Runs For Home

BYCHURCH, July 13.—Irvin Pierson, a 17-year-old boy, reported to Deputy Constable Goodwin yesterday that he had been held up by a highwayman on the road to York, where the youth refused to hold up his hands and took to his heels, chased him seven blocks to his home on York street.

Pierson, who is large for his age and looks to be 20, got off the last east bound car at York street and took to his heels, chased him seven blocks to his home on York street.

Pierson, who is large for his age and looks to be 20, got off the last east bound car at York street and took to his heels, chased him seven blocks to his home on York street.

Acting is Good

Charles Dalton, as Robert Smith, the acknowledged brother is finely fitted for the part. He is big, strong and looks the part, and with his heavy, sincere acting wins the heart of the audience. His soul is longing for a daughter of his, but he dares not reveal the fact for fear of making the child hate him for his low condition. He does an excellent piece of work, when he decides that his little girl shall never know who her father is.

Milton Sills, as the Vicar, was very good, showing a struggle going on in his soul for the supremacy of the right.

To George Wilson, as the narrow minded Bishop of Lancashire, is due a great deal of credit for his clever impersonation of the wicked old "servant of the Lord."

All the cast were very good, producing an astounding impression, as of having listened to an interesting sermon.

The play will last the entire week.

POOR LIM YOU! HE IS OUT OF LUCK

Arrested Twice, Burns Foot,
Loses Chickens and Spilled
Laundry in Runaway

FRUITVALE, July 14.—Lim You is in trouble again. The Oriental laundryman has burned thousands of paper prayers, but they might as well have been asbestos for all the good they have done. Lim was twice arrested for selling lottery tickets and put up bail in the sum of $100 each time. Subsequently he dropped a hot iron on his foot. Then some miscreant stole three of his chickens which he was taking for Thanksgiving. Later, the winter storms drowned the four remaining calves and his Christmas dinner went glimmering. For a while you had peace, but the next thing he knew his landlord called upon him to pay his rent, which Lim refused to do on the ground that he had already paid the same twice. The unfortunate Oriental set fire to his clothes, more orders to Lung Sheng, the god of luck, (he was rewarded by having his tailor, H. Wase, put a cross in his trousers which did not entirely satisfy him. Constantly Allen on this occasion forced him to pay 50 cents for the job. After this episode Lim You offered incense, burnt papers, visited the joss house innumerable times, and ignited paper prayers by thousands. Yesterday Lim complained to Constable Allen that a gang of Fruitvale desperadoes had attacked him Monday night, threw him and his horse into the sea, and that the latter ran away and overturned his wagon and scattered his laundry all over the place. Lim said the said desperadoes had many of them aligned on his anatomy and caused divers bruises and lacerations so that he was forced to lay off a day. It is rumored that Lim has ordered ten thousand more prayers.

CUTICURA REMEDIES CURED HER AT LAST

"When I was four years old a humor came out on my scalp. It would make a thick scab on one night, itching and burning terribly. My father spent many hundreds of dollars trying to find a doctor who could cure this humor, but none of them could ever help it even a little bit. At the age of fifteen years I had the measles, and after that the itching and burning got so bad that I had to stop my hair out before I could comb it. My hair came off in spots and my head was in a bad shape. About this time a friend of my father suggested he try Cuticura for me. My father took this advice and bought the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them faithfully and to my surprise they stopped the itching at once, like cold water to a burn. In a week my head was clean from the scab but was very red and inflamed, but I had experienced more relief from the terrible itching and burning than ever before. I did not expect to be cured, as I thought that nothing could do that, but I had to use something all the time and Cuticura was cheaper than doctors. After some time, to my surprise I awoke to the fact that my head was cured. It was as free from the disease as though I had never suffered. I am now forty-two and have never had any sign of my old trouble since I was cured. I owe health, happiness and life to Cuticura. Every one who thought it was a cure for me, I have written by my old neighbors, Mrs. Florence E. Ames, Getchell Box 503 Ballouville Me., Feb. 10 and 13 1909."

Cuticura Remedies are sold everywhere. For sale by Dr. J. C. Smith, 505 First St., Boston, Mass. Cuticura Soap and Ointment mailed free on request.

"Don't miss seeing Laddie Cliff, the boy wonder!"
That is the exclamation that one hears these days on the street, in the restaurants, in cafes, at the homes and wherever people meet to chat about the life, the gossip and news in this city. People who have had a glimpse of Laddie Cliff at the Oakland Orpheum almost invariably do one thing after leaving the theater. They hunt up their friends and advise them to join the "Laddie Cliff Club"—in other words, be an enthusiast over this wonderful English lad who is at the Orpheum. Or if they do not hunt up their friends to give them this bit of advice, they proffer it on the Rialto or at the tea table or wherever friends are met. This boy Laddie Cliff certainly is a genius. He has the gift of interesting an audience, a town, a city, and almost a nation in his odd personality. In New York he was a sensation. They raved over the lad's unaffected ways, his charming, genial style of work, and his bright, fresh manner. The Orpheum people brought him across the continent, and in San Francisco he received the same sort of treatment that he received in New York. The town went crazy over him.

Idol of Audience
Laddie Cliff was the idol of the Orpheumites in San Francisco for two weeks, and he now promises to duplicate the triumph in Oakland. The matinee throngs evidently adore him, the afternoon crowds at the Orpheum this week being unusually large. It is the magic of Laddie Cliff's name that draws the ladies. At night the multitudes gather and again Laddie Cliff is the center of attraction. He is one of the greatest brought out here.

Laddie is only 17 years old. Off the stage he wears knickerbockers, a bit of a straw hat and a short coat and looks for all the world like a school boy out for a vacation. He does not suggest girlish point nor thoughtfulness. He is just a boy—just Laddie Cliff. On the stage he is a human dynamo. He bubbles with life; he dances with extraordinary skill; he sings songs of a new pattern and sings them with remarkable smartness. When he begins to recite a bit of English music, when he tells a story the same result is noted. He holds the audience like water in his hands. He is undoubtedly "the boy wonder."

There is a lot of feminine beauty at the Orpheum. There are 18 girls, 18 Original Madrons, all pretty girls, and a sprightly, snappy act that catches the fancy of the throngs.

Pretty Singers

Then there are the Four Singing Collets from Ireland, a quartet of beauties, with charming matured voices which they show to advantage in ballads and popular songs. Every lad in town is likely to be rolling a hoop and trying to play diablo as Ollie Young and his brothers are doing at the Orpheum. These men are regarded as the greatest experts in their field. The way they throw boomers over the heads of the audience is a revelation to those who have never seen this Australian trick performed.

"The Futurity Winner," with its realistic house race, continues to be one of the big cards of the show. The children find immense fun in the work of the Camille Trio, three grotesque bar performers. James Thornton has a lot of new funny stories this week and for a bonnie bouche renders selections from a lot of popular songs he has written during the past twenty years, including "When You

BUSINESS ACTIVE WITH RAILROAD

Passenger and Freight Traffic Shows Steady Increase on Southern Pacific

"Business is good," is the pass word in Southern Pacific offices these days, for reports in all departments show a most gratifying increase in passenger and freight traffic. Official statements of excursion business done in northern California on July 4 show that between 55,000 and 60,000 passengers were handled that day, an increase of nearly 10,000 over any previous year. San Francisco furnished 22,000 of the total number.

45,000 in Los Angeles

The movement for the Pikes convention is 75 per cent greater than had been anticipated. Returns yesterday showed that there are 45,000 strangers in Los Angeles. Excursions run from San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, San Jose, Stockton and Sacramento each sent out a special train, carrying from 300 to 400 tickets, about 100 per cent more than had been anticipated.

The movement from points west of the Missouri river is totaling 15,000. Frequent arrivals of these passengers will pass through San Francisco on their return home.

Usual business in the passenger department is figured at 20 per cent better than last year, an average increase of about 10 per cent over normal times. Passenger business has been on the steady increase since last March.

Increased Traffic

In the freight department, the increase of business is placed at from 13 to 15 per cent over 1908. Although the net earnings of the fiscal year have not yet been made public, it is stated that the past twelve months will show a gratifying profit.

MORE LITIGATION IN SUTRO ESTATE

Mrs. Emma L. Merritt Asks for Rehearing of Recent Decision of Court

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The Sutor estate is again to be plunged into litigation. After eleven years of legal warfare in the course of this estate, which it was believed settled all claims to the huge fortune, Mrs. Emma L. Merritt, a daughter of Adolph Sutor and executrix of his will, has presented a petition to the Supreme Court for a rehearing of the decision of June 24, whereby the trust clause of the will have been declared illegal.

Mrs. Merritt is taking this step purely as a matter of sentiment. By the decision of the Supreme Court her share in the estate is largely increased, as is also that of her brothers and sisters. She, however, wants her father's will carried out to the letter, if possible.

If she can gain that point much will go to charity, and she and her five brothers and sisters will lose 1200 acres of land valued at fully $3,000,000.

Edgar E. Sutro, one of her brothers, and her sister, Mrs. Margaret English of Chicago, Mrs. Kate Newsham of Bonn, Germany, and Mrs. Rose Morbillo of Oakland, have fought her on this point for eleven years and won out by the Supreme Court's decision.

Her brother Charles W. Sutro has all along assumed a neutral position. The lands sought to be tied up for the purpose of charity, include the San Miguel ranch, the Cliff House lands, Sutro Heights and Baker Beach property.
